Truman Calls Off Vacation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (INS)—President Truman today suddenly cancelled his planned Florida vacation and intensified his efforts to solve the critical labor unrest impeding the nation's reconversion effort.

A White House announcement revealing the President's change of plans said:

"The President has cancelled his trip to Florida and the cruise he had planned to take in southern waters because of the immediate critical situation involving problems requiring his personal attention.

"The President has decided not to leave Washington at this time.

"The President particularly regrets that he must disappoint the president and governing body of Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla., which had arranged to confer an honorary degree upon him.

"He also regrets that this chance in his plans will necessitate a postponement of his meeting with Mr. Winston Churchill. He feels, however, that the unusual circumstances justify his actions. The trip is therefore abandoned."

White House aides told reporters the labor crisis and the related wage-price policy were involved in the decision.

Shortly after the White House announcement Mr. Truman conferred at length with AFL President William Green on the Administration's contemplated wage-price policy.

Green told reporters he did not get any impression from his talk with the President that the current troubled industrial situation would be cleared up in a day or two.

Speaker Rayburn also expressed the belief a settlement of strikes did not appear "immediate."

Twenty-four hours earlier federal officials were highly optimistic about prospects for a quick end to the 19-day old strike of 750,000 steel workers and general improvement all along the industrial front as a result of the imminent announcement of a new stabilization plan.

President Truman's concentration on the nation's stabilization problem and its relation to current industrial strife sent OPA Administrator Chester Bowles to the White House for an early-morning conference.

Steel Union Meeting Call Hints Big News

BALTIMORE, Feb. 8 (AP)—A mass meeting of approximately 20,000 striking steel workers in the Baltimore area has been called for Sunday, Albert Atallah, district United Steel Workers' (CIO) director, said today.

Urging all steel workers attend the meeting, Atallah said it was called because "we expect important developments and believe it will be necessary to call the membership together at that time and explain the situation to them."

Major Strikes At A Glance

STEEL—Settlement of 19-day steel strike appears imminent; government and union officials express hopes for quick end; government reportedly ready to offer industry price increase of about $5.25 a ton. Ford shuts down three more plants, idling 42,000. Eagle Lock in Terryville, Ct., puts screw department on short time due to steel shortage.

MEAT—Government fact-finding board recommends 16 cents hourly wage increase for settling meat industry's wage dispute, with 11 cents to be covered by price increase or federal subsidy.

Berle Quits As Envoy To Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Feb. 8 (AP)—Adolf Berle, Jr., U. S. ambassador to Brazil, has submitted his resignation to President Truman.

Berle, a former assistant secretary of state, presented his credentials as ambassador a little over a year ago, he disclosed. President Truman had agreed to release him after the new government of President Gen. Dutra had been installed.

This is the second important change in the U. S. diplomatic service in South America recently. Spruille Braden, ambassador to Argentina, became an assistant secretary of state.

Club-Wielding Police Rout Lancaster, Pa., Car Pickets

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 8 (AP)—Six trolleys and four buses broke through pickets today in another attempt of the strike-bound Conestoga Transportation Co. to resume operations with volunteer drivers led by former GI's.

Crowds watched club-wielding policemen push pickets aside as the vehicles emerged from the car barn.

Yells of "scab" came from pickets. Strikers quit the gates shortly afterward.

The pickets refused to let a company automobile leave the plant ahead of the trolley cars but police finally cleared a path.

Several of those entering the barn today wore Army uniforms. Nine ex-GI's who first cracked the picket line slept overnight in the barns.

There was a brief flurry of excitement yesterday as five trolleys rumbled into the street, marking partial resumption of service.

James H. Yoder, head of Local 1241, Amalgamated Ass'n of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees (AFL), said:

"It is unfortunate the United States uniform is being used by strikebreakers."

Move to Avert Truck Strike

Last minute efforts to avert the threatened strike of nearly 5000 Greater Boston truck drivers will be made at week-end meetings of officials of the Truck Drivers' Union, Local 25, and the employers' group of Motor Freight Carriers. It was announced today after a conference with Gov. Tobin at the State House.

in compliance with Mayor O'Dwyer's "lights out" proclamation to conserve fuel during the tugboat strike.

News bulletins on the Times building, animated cartoons and the cigarette sign that blows smoke rings were among principal dim-out victims.

Only street lamps and lights in stores and amusement places—not affected by the order—kept the area from hitting wartime gloom.

Subway trains ran without heat. Meanwhile, union leaders predicted 3500 tugmen today would ratify a proposal to end the city's worst waterfront tie-up in 27 years.

The settlement accord was agreed on by leaders of all union and employer groups, and Capt. William Bradley, head of the striking union, said he believed the men would accept it at today's balloting.

As the referendum vote began it was learned unofficially terms of the contract provided for a 40-hour week and a 15-cents-an-hour pay increase.

Other terms, strikers said, include two weeks' vacation with pay after three years' service and retroactivity to Jan. 1, if owners are granted an increase in towing rates. If no increase is granted, the strikers added, retroactivity would be to Feb. 1.

Some, however, insisted the referendum provided for retention of a 48-hour week.

UNO Capital in America Seen Peril in Event of War

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
Dean of American Foreign Correspondents
Written Expressly for the Hearst Newspapers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—The "World Capital" of UNO, wherever it may be located, is certain to be doomed in World War III when that conflict comes, suddenly and perhaps with less warning than the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

And any large city in its vicinity will be doomed.

The capital of UNO should be built on an island, in the mountains or in the desert.

It could be built on Bermuda, 600 miles from New York.

A suitable site would be Spain's island of Tenerife, the jagged mountains of which are believed to be the topmost peaks of the lost continent of Atlantis, which ancient legends say was destroyed and sank beneath the Atlantic by the discovery and use for evil purpose of cosmic energy, supposedly analogous to our atomic bomb.

Honolulu would be safer for the 8,000,000 inhabitants of Greater New York than the site on its doorstep now selected.

There is a great American military establishment already on Oahu, to protect, and defend that capital of the world.

If located near New York, America would be expected to defend it anyhow.

It would be cheaper to us to give the UNO capital of the world one of the Hawaiian islands for its exclusive site and extra-territorial state, than to invite the possible destruction of New York one day.

Better to give such an island than to have a "foreign state," like a "Polish corridor," on American territory between New York and Boston.

There is something peculiar in the eagerness to hand back to the United States of America the UNO baby born in San Francisco, and still in the age of the Gandhi looting.

Totalitarian Communist Soviet Russia has not demanded or stretched out her hand for nor once asked for the "Capital of the World."

Indeed, there is good reason to believe that Soviet influence selected America and decided upon the site on the doorstep of Greater New York city.

The chairman of the UNO subcommittee is Yugoslav, and Yugoslavia is the ally of Soviet Russia. It is clear that Moscow does not want the capital of the world in Europe.

The Kremlin is very practical in remote control.

For one thing, evidently Russia does not want the representatives of some 50-odd nations and the UNO general staff of an international army sniping about in Communist-Socialist Europe.

The American people in general, and New Yorkers in particular, might well ask themselves: Would George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln or Teddy Roosevelt have approved or granted sovereign rights to a foreign state on American territory?

UNO Site Delay May Aid Frisco

LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP)—A highly responsible source said tonight a trend was developing to locate the United Nations' temporary headquarters in San Francisco or London and to delay the decision on the permanent site a year or two.

The site committee recommended New York city for the provisional seat and an area on the New York-Connecticut border for permanent quarters.

spotted a youth sitting outside at the wheel of a stolen car. Sgts. Thomas Conboy and John J. Cunniffe, responding to MacLean's telephoned request for help, discovered three youths inside the garage attempting to force a heavy drop door.

Detectives said they had stolen the car from front of the home of Abraham Brickman, Fairmont st., Mattapan, about midnight.

While Conboy and Cunniffe were still investigating the garage break, they saw four men running past Lansing and Warren sts. and gave chase.

The officers said the fleeing men were laden with men's suits stolen from the tailor shop of Martin Cripson in Blue Hill ave., Roxbury. More than $1000 worth of clothing was stolen in this break, the owner told investigators.

Three fugitives were caught in this chase, but the fourth escaped. Another arrest for breaking and entering was made in South Boston, where Patrolman Thomas Kenney caught a 24-year-old South Boston man in a chain grocery store in East Eighth st.

Three other men were picked up by police throughout the city in a roundup of suspicious characters.

Meanwhile, police of Arlington, Cambridge and Somerville joined in a wild chase of a taxicab stolen in Union sq., Somerville, which was climaxed with the capture of two World War II veterans. The stolen cab was finally halted by Somerville Patrolmen C. J. Collins and J. W. Murphy after they chased it three and a half miles along Alewife Brook pkwy.

These arrests followed Greater Boston's biggest night of crime in recent weeks in which seven holdups were staged and a total of $880 taken.

Social Workers Admit Baby Mart, Lack Proof

By PAULINE WARREN

Social workers are among those best qualified to know whether or not a black market in babies is thriving in Massachusetts, and most of them agree on its existence.

Unfortunately, however, none has been able to gain proof of cash transactions involved in the placing of children for adoption. Miss Ida Cannon, for more than 25 years chief of social service at Massachusetts General Hospital, and cited by other social workers as the dean of their profession, long has worked for reform in the laws on adoption.

She has been prominent in studies and investigations of the matter since her retirement from active duty at the hospital, and here is what she says about a black market in babies:

"We know the market exists but we cannot get the proof."

"The most important thing in stopping it is to gain the confidence of doctors and obtain their co-operation."

"Not many doctors, I believe, actually accept cash for the transfer of a baby of an unwed mother to a foster home. There are many who make such transactions from a spirit of mistaken kindness and simply as a protection for their patients."

"A doctor has the confidence of a patient and learns her secret long before anyone else. He wants to protect her and often goes to great lengths to shield her real identity when she goes to the hospital to give birth to an illegitimate baby. His advice on what to do with the child is

Undersitter Unnecessary, But—

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 8 (INS)—Mrs. Enrichetta Grove, former WAC, bustled happily into the Newark offices of United Air Lines. She asked for a ticket for herself and her eight-month-old twins to Omaha. She explained happily to the agent:

"My husband bought a house there and he's working for the government."

The ticket-seller, his mind a mass of flight schedules and price rates, looked up. Out came a federal regulation:

"No infant under one year of age shall be permitted on a commercial air line flight unless accompanied by a person 16 years or older."

Twins obviously were two people. They would need two persons 16 years or older to escort them.

"Well, give me two adult tickets. I'll find an undersitter," Mrs. Grove advertised and United Airlines hastened to correct itself. Mrs. Grove would have to buy two tickets but she didn't need an undersitter.

"Oh, that's all right," responded Mrs. Grove. "I picked a wonderful girl who wants to live with relatives in Omaha. She's going to hold Theresa Ann."

Held to Promise, Must Serve Life

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 8 (AP)—Twenty-nine years ago, Maurice P. Bradford, 56, made a promise and the state held him to it today.

Gov. Dale and the executive council denied a pardon to Bradford who is, serving a life term

Judge William H. Sawyer, who presided at Bradford's trial, testified Bradford had been sentenced to life imprisonment on his promise never to ask for a pardon.

Senate Group OK's Allen, 14-5

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (INS)

White House Adviser George E. Allen today won the Senate banking committee's endorsement of his nomination to be a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Three Republicans joined 11 Democrats to give President Truman's nominee a 14 to 5 recommendation he be confirmed.

Sen. Taft said he would carry the fight against Allen to the Senate floor.

The nomination of Edwin A. Pauley as assistant secretary of the Navy remained stalemated in the naval affairs committee.

Mental Test For Boy Stabber

Richard Emerson Stearns, 15, honor student at Medford High School, today was committed by Judge Buttrick for 35 days' observation at Metropolitan State Hospital at Waltham after he pleaded not guilty in Middlesex Superior Court in connection with an ice-pick attack a month ago on two small boys.

Stearns is the adopted son of a prominent Medford family.

The youth is accused of luring Barkley W. Glaven, 6, and Francis Piscitello, 7, both of Thatcher st., Medford, to a vacant house and then stabbing them repeatedly with an ice-pick. On his arrest he allegedly told police he could not restrain "a desire to kill." Both boys recovered.

CANADA ADMIRAL DIES

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 8 (INS)—R. Adm. George C. Jones of Halifax, N. S., chief of the Canadian naval staff, died suddenly today.

Abrams and Cohen Praised By Gen. Clarke at Fete Here

The inspiring battlefield courage and tenacity of Col. Creighton Abrams and Lt. Col. Harold Cohen helped win the victory of war, but the victory of peace is now the important duty of every American citizen. This was the message Brig. Gen. Bruce G. Clarke, commanding officer of the famous 4th Armored Division, brought to 700 members of Amos Lodge, B'nai B'rith, who gathered at Temple Ohabei Shalom, Brookline, for a testimonial to Abrams and Cohen. The honored guests were termed "the most lethal pair of fighting men to come out of the Army."

Gen. Clarke, their commanding officer, who came here from Washington to pay his respects to the two heroes, said it was an honor to command them and asserted he never had to issue them a written order. Gen. Clarke called them the greatest tank and infantry battalion commanders he ever saw.

"These men you are honoring only started the job," he added, "but the job must be finished. You who do the voting have to finish it and you won't do the job unless you keep this country strong."

Gen. Clarke, who is called the "Father of the 4th Armored Division," also praised Gen. George S. Patton whom he called "one of the greatest men of this age."

"No other commander could raise the morale of the soldiers like Patton," he said.

Col. Creighton Abrams, whose home is in Agawam, but who is now stationed at Washington, commended Austen Lake, Boston American columnist and war correspondent, for his outstanding job of factual reporting of the war, and doing his job where the fighting was toughest.

Speaking of his partner Lt. Col. Cohen, Col. Abrams told the audience that Cohen came into the Army as a private and through sheer ability worked his way up to the command of an infantry battalion. A regular Army man himself, Abrams praised the "Civilian Army" and said that Cohen was one of the best.

Since returning to this country, he said, many persons have asked him if there was any trace of racial discrimination shown in the front lines and he said up there, there was no racial discrimination.

"Where you came from and what you are makes not the slightest difference," he said. "You are judged by your character, loyalty and endurance."

Austen Lake, who was with the famous pair during their toughest fighting, who arranged the reunion between the two friends, and who acted as toastmaster, told many stories of the two.

Others at the head table were David Lasker, State Commander of the Jewish War Veterans; George W. Gardner, State Commander of the American Legion; Francis Roche, State Commander of the Disabled War Veterans; Max Ulin, a member of the Metropolitan District Commission; Wilfred Jacobs, past department commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Chaplain William H. Blough, USNR.

These Days The F. B. I.

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

THE DAILY WORKER recently produced an editorial entitled, "Himmler's Understudy." And by "Himmler's Understudy," the Daily Worker means J. Edgar Hoover, an American if ever there was one, whose services to his country equal those of our best generals and admirals.

Utilizing the technique of the smear-amalgam, by which it is possible to denounce a man by association with unrelated symbols, the Communist organ says:

"Hoover slanders the American Communists as 'foreign agents.' This is the old gag. In England, the Tories used to say that 'Communism' came from 'radical America.' In Czarist Russia the police used to say that 'Communism' came from Germany, while in Germany the police used to cry it came from Russia."

It does not matter to Americans where J. Edgar Hoover England or Czarist Russia or Germany said Communism came from. What does matter is that a systematic, insidious, undercover campaign is being waged against J. Edgar Hoover, against the FBI, against all the effective agencies in this country for national defense and security against an alien conspiracy designed to destroy our way of life, our political, social and economic institutions.

MARK WHAT This same editorial has to say on this subject:

"Communist parties, organizing the people for the establishment of a higher social system, socialism, defend every democratic liberty and every economic measure beneficial to the people. They arise where-ever there is poverty and exploitation..."

This is said of the United States of America, the country which, after two wars in a quarter of a century, still has the highest standard of living on earth, whose people live in freedom under the law, protected by a free press, and possessing savings of $13,000,000,000 which is their own to do with as they choose, without government interference.

This is the country that gave to Europe and Asia as a gift $40,000,000,000 in Lend-Lease, including $10,800,000,000 to Soviet Russia, a poverty-stricken country, so backward that it still employs slave labor.

The Daily Worker, existing in the freedom of America, publishes this denunciation, using the words poverty and exploitation, as a vile comparison in a fight against J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI.

They hate the FBI because it alone of intelligence agencies rejected Communists during the war.

They got into the State Department and the Army and while some were shielded by the secrecy of actual membership, others disclosed their affiliations and were even defended by their superiors in such an agency as the O. S. S.

The FBI kept them out because it is a permanent bulwark of national security.

WE ARE ALL accustomed to the kind of war that is associated with the Armies and Navies, with airplanes, submarines and bombs.

But most of us do not recognize the insidious and prolonged warfare that undermines a country as termite eat away the sills of a farmhouse.

It is a warfare that goes on day and night, enlisting sentimental people as aids over particular issues but soon engulfing them in its destructive program.

It is a warfare that corrupted France before the Nazis conquered her, that has resulted in puppetizing a large number of nations in Europe.

A NATION should protect itself from this warfare as from foreign Armies and Navies.

It should fight it by every means at its disposal.

Only a cowardly people avoid this fight.

Only a cowardly people refuse to see it when it is so apparent and obvious.

For the first time in American history, there is an open and active Communist bloc in the House of Representatives and it is seeking recruits in the next election.

Is the FBI essential?

It seems to me that the FBI should receive from Congress the largest appropriation in its history—so large that it can really serve America competently.

Curley Sees FHA On Housing Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—Mayor James M. Curley spent several hours today in conference with Federal Housing Administration officials discussing prospects of having private capital invest in housing projects in Boston.

The Mayor said no agreement was reached and at present the matter was so inconclusive he did not care to comment on the project.

GI Widows Sad On Queen Mary, Bound for U. S.

ABOARD THE QUEEN MARY, Feb. 8 (AP)—One plucky mother of two children, speeding on the last half of the journey on this GI bride ship, is traveling with a heavy heart. She is Kathleen Heuston Ramsey, 29, of London, widowed on the eve of her departure. She was notified her husband, former Cpl. John Ramsey of Wilmette, Ill., had died suddenly. She received no details.

Mrs. Ramsey is making the trip to America in answer to a plea of her husband's elderly father, who begged her in a trans-Atlantic telephone conversation to come so he could see his grandchildren.

She doesn't know what she is going to do in the United States, but she said: "I couldn't refuse the plea of John's father." She has been traveling on pluck alone, for despite the fact she has been ill from the shocks of her husband's death and from sea sickness, she has had to care for her children, Jeanette, 3½, and John, 1.

Wins Annulment After 14 Years As Dual Wife

After 14 years of marriage she learned her husband had a previous wife and three children, Mrs. Veronica Yardley Lennon of Bragden st., Jamaica Plain, testified in Suffolk probate court today, obtaining annulment of her marriage to Thomas B. Lennon of Huntington ave., Back Bay.

Mrs. Lennon told Judge John V. Mahoney she married Lennon in Verona, N. J., in 1926, and came to this state in 1938. Two years later, she testified, friends told her Lennon had been previously married and had not obtained a divorce.

"My husband admitted he had another wife, but said he did not love her," she said. "I immediately left him. I discovered he had married Florence Johnson of Boston, in 1921, and that she was mother of his three children."

"My husband wrote a letter telling me to 'straighten out the matter.' I believe he wants to get married again."

Mrs. Lennon was accompanied in court by her paratrooper son, Pvt. Thomas B. Lennon, Jr. After granting the annulment, Judge Mahoney called the young soldier to the bench and assured him it did not affect his legitimacy.

Wife, 18, Battles For Infant Son

An 18-year-old Gloucester mother, Mrs. Patricia Charte, today in Salem probate court sought custody of her son, Kenneth, 5 months, charging he was spirited from Salem Hospital by her estranged husband, Arthur, a Rockport farmer.

Mrs. Charte said she had lived with Charte's parents, but had been ordered out by her husband a month before her baby was born. She testified she took the baby home from the hospital, but that both she and the child became ill and a doctor ordered her to her mother's home and sent the baby back to the hospital.

She said Charte called for the baby during her illness and that she has been ordered away whenever she attempts to see little Kenneth at his home. The case is being contested.

Catholic Conference on Industrial Problems, today urged a comprehensive social insurance system.

Speaking before a large gathering in New England Mutual Hall, Altmeyer denied extension of the benefits of the Social Security Act would mean "a huge national bureaucracy."

"I say it is feasible to eliminate want in this country because our productive capacity is more than sufficient to eliminate want," he said.

"Even though we achieve the goal of full employment and full production, the working people still will be confronted with the great economic hazards of sickness, physical disability, old age, and death, as well as intermittent employment."

"Since the majority of our people are dependent upon their earnings, we should provide reasonable protection against interruption of income through any of these causes. This can be accomplished to a large extent by a system of social insurance under which benefits are paid to compensate for a reasonable proportion of the wage loss sustained. The cost of such benefits should be financed out of contributions made by the workers of the country and their employers."

Altmeyer declared there should be no fears that a system would mean federal control of the daily lives of all people.

"It really would be a government insurance company, which would collect premiums and pay benefits," he continued. "There would be no regulatory powers involved."

Provided for under the plan would be those not cared for now under Social Security. These include agricultural workers, domestic servants, small business and professional men, farmers and employees in non-profit organizations.

Corregidor Radioman Re-Enlists for 3 Yrs.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (INS)—Sgt. Irving Strobbe, 26-year-old radio operator from Brooklyn who tapped out the last historic messages from Corregidor in May, 1942, has re-enlisted for another three years in the Army.

MRS. BRIDGET SULLIVAN AND SON, JAMES
South Boston woman, 72, identified at City Hospital
INS by Bruce McLean

Batter in Door, Find 2d Stricken Sister

A 72-year-old South Boston woman, who since Tuesday had been unidentified at City Hospital, today was joined at that institution by her aged sister, who apparently had lain in a coma in their South Boston home since the former rushed out to get aid early Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Bridget Sullivan was identified as a result of a newspaper story by her son, James M. Sullivan, Washington st., Brighton, but not until the latter had helped police break down a door and aid his aunt, Mrs. Mary Conway, 76, West Third st., South Boston. Both sisters are widows.

Mrs. Sullivan was picked up unconscious in Broadway and taken to City Hospital. She had suffered a shock and brain concussion, but what puzzled police most was the fact she wore a purple bathrobe over her outer clothing.

Sullivan read the newspaper story only today, and, impressed by the description and the place the woman was found, rushed to the South Boston home of his mother and aunt. Unable to get a response, he called police and then broke in a door.

Unconscious on a bed lay Mrs. Conway. She was found at City Hospital to be suffering shock and a possible brain hemorrhage.

Police now theorize Mrs. Conway was stricken early Tuesday morning and that Mrs. Sullivan collapsed after hurriedly leaving the house to get help.

Plea Frees Texan And Hub Woman

A personal appearance in Suffolk Superior Court today of the Hunt County, Tex., prosecutor saved a former merchant marine seaman and girl companion from prison after they pleaded guilty to conspiracy to rob and morals counts.

County Atty. Edgar Hutchings, uncle of George Bird, 18, of Dallas, explained to Judge Nelson P. Brown his nephew was the sole support of a widowed mother.

Judge Brown gave one year probation to Bird and Mrs. Patricia Scudder, 19, of Bowdoin ave., Dorchester, with the understanding Bird return to Texas.

Auto Output Sags 5500 in a Week

DETROIT, Feb. 8 (AP)—Ward's automotive reports estimated today this week's production of cars, trucks and buses will total 23,785 units. Last week's production of cars, trucks and buses will total 23,785 units. Last week's output was estimated at 23,235.

Malden City Hall Firebug Sought

Malden police today sought an intruder who broke into Malden City Hall and set a fire in the main corridor, which caused several hundred dollars damage and threatened destruction of the 100-year-old structure.

Quick action by Watchman Lyle Bunker using an extinguisher saved the building, according to Mayor McCarthy.

Police said the firebug set fire to legal notices on the first floor bulletin board and flames were eating into the wall when Bunker discovered them.

Bridgeport Pact Averts Brass Strike

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., Feb. 8 (AP)—An agreement between the Bridgeport Brass Co. and the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO) has cancelled the strike called for Monday by the company's 5200 employees.

The agreement gives the workers an immediate wage increase of 10 per cent, and "any further increase that can be justified under the new national wage price policy as a result of the steel settlement."

Tobin Parole Talk Puzzles Mrs. O'Keefe

Why Gov. Tobin called her into conference when she submitted her resignation from the parole board "puzzles" Mrs. Ruth Evans O'Keefe of Lynn.

Although she declined to discuss details of the 30-minute talk with the Governor, she disclosed he did not ask her to reconsider her resignation.

"Not that I wanted to or intended to," she added.

"I have planned to enjoy a peaceful life in my home, but my interest in correctional affairs has developed into a life interest."

She said much good could be accomplished through remedial legislation and declared: "I will do what I can, as a private citizen, to further good legislation."

Mrs. O'Keefe resigned Jan. 17 following a dispute with male members over cases involving women. She said her former colleagues were "hard, inhuman and unjust."

The "puzzling" conference with Gov. Tobin was held yesterday. At the conclusion of the talk, Tobin announced he had accepted the resignation.

Missing Yacht Sighted by B-17

MIAMI, Feb. 8 (AP)—Coast Guard headquarters announced today an Army B-17 had sighted a yacht believed to be the missing Alliantia with eight persons aboard, in distress about 45 miles off Tampa.

The yacht, five days overdue at St. Petersburg from Narabelle, Fla., with Thomas W. Briggs, Memphis, Tenn., nationally-known advertising executive, and seven others on board has been hunted by Coast Guard planes and patrol boats for two days.

Headquarters said a crash boat from McMill Field in Tampa was enroute to the stricken craft and that four Coast Guard planes searching the upper gulf had been ordered to the scene.

Biggest Sunspots Known Disrupt Overseas Radio

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (INS)—Press, airplane and commercial radio communications with Europe and Asia were almost completely disrupted today by the effects of two huge sunspots—said to be the largest ever measured.

Press Wireless, Inc., reported the electronic interference, caused by atomic storms on the sun's surface, resulted in a total shutdown in its transatlantic contacts.

Mackay radio also reported its east-west wire abroad entirely blacked out since midnight and contact with South America "very bad."

RCA announced a virtually complete "blanket" overseas, as well as from San Francisco to Manila, Chungking and Tokyo.

At LaGuardia Field interruptions with some transatlantic plane operations resulted.

TWA announced it was unable to maintain contact with "The Star of Paris" on its inaugural New York-Paris flight. The ship was last reported to have landed yesterday in Iceland.

American Overseas Airline postponed until tomorrow a Stockholm flight and delayed an inbound flight from Newfoundland until the atmosphere clears.

Common, Notorious Thief Gets Six Years

Daniel J. Morgan, 48, County st., Walpole, who has tangled with the law since he was 19, was sentenced to a six to eight-year term in State Prison today after being adjudged by Judge Buttrick of Middlesex Superior Court as a "common and notorious thief."

Morgan pleaded guilty to 10 counts of larceny by means of worthless checks. The checks, each for $20, were cashed in Cambridge, Medford, Somerville and Waltham.

The Pilot Condemns Russia's UNO Action

If the price of making Massachusetts the permanent home of the United Nations Organization was "to forewear our American heritage of free speech," it was "far, far better to make the discovery before the marriage than after."

This is the stand taken by The Pilot, official publication of the Boston archdiocese, in an editorial published this week.

Commenting on the controversial speech made by Judge John E. Swift, which inspired Russia to protest against Massachusetts as a UNO site, The Pilot asserted that "we have evidence that wherever Communism takes over, all the civilized decencies are blacked out."

The paper defended Judge Swift's right to make the speech that he did.

"It wasn't a question of whether he rightly evaluated current trends at home and abroad—solely and wholly the issue concerned the right of free speech," The Pilot's editorial said.

"Honestly, and before God, we are not 'against Russia.' If we were, we'd have to quit calling ourselves Christians," the editorial continued.

"But we were dead against robbery, rape and murder when the Wehrmacht were the perpetrators. Do these horrors become licit when Stalin's children commit them?"

"We don't 'hate Russia.' But since we condemned Hitler's brutal absorption of small, helpless nations, by what Satanic casuistry do we silence our consciences when Stalin emulates Hitler's performance?"

"We unsay nothing of the hopes we expressed for UNO, wherever it finds a home. Wherever the organization locates, our prayers go with it—even though Russia doesn't want them."

"UNO may feel assured that Massachusetts loyally and to the hilt will support the association in its overall objective of world peace. But—and this is not sour grapes—thank God the old Bay State has preserved its heritage of free speech."

Curley Hearing Over to Monday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—Illness of Federal Judge Proctor today caused postponement of a hearing on the petition of Mayor
Curley for a new trial on mail fraud charges.

The court announced the hearing will be held Monday afternoon.

Learning of the postponement,
Curley said he and Mrs. Curley would return to Boston for the week-end.

Asst. U. S. Atty.-Gen. William
A. Paisley said he would attend
Monday's hearing only to answer any questions the court might have. He said he would make no recommendations for disposition of the case.

Candidate Freed In Dead Deer Plot

Leo G. Pelletiere, 43, of Kendall rd., Tyngsboro, runs for re-election as highway surveyor in that town with unblemished record next week—thanks to a decision by Judge Frank W.
Tomasello in municipal court.

Pelletiere pleaded not guilty today of failing to report the killing of a deer. He told the court he had mailed such a report and political enemies in the town had inspired the charge.

"I believe your story," declared Judge Tomasello. "I thought all the dirty politics went on in the cities. Here's for a fair election in Tyngsboro next week. Not guilty."

UNO 'Land Deals' Under Senate Fire

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (INS).—The United Nations land site in Connecticut and alleged "land deals" preceding the selection came under Senate fire today.

Sen. Taft (R.) of Ohio, branded as "unreasonable" the proposal to set aside a 42-square-mile area for the UNO headquarters and demanded the size of the site be whittled down.

At the same time Sen. Langer (R.) of North Dakota, introduced a resolution calling for a Senate investigation into reported behind-the-scenes manipulations and undercover real estate transactions in connection with the site.

Langer's resolution grew out of the New York Journal-American's disclosure a mysterious Madame X and an English countess were credited with having maneuvered selection of the area by the UNO site sub-committee.

Meanwhile members of Congress questioned the legal right of the federal government to compel landowners to sell their property to UNO.

Langer demanded a five-senator committee be created to investigate "alleged speculation" in the UNO site area. He called for a fourpoint inquiry:

Whether options were obtained in large numbers before the site was chosen.

The identity of "speculators" and whether they are American citizens.

Whether an "international syndicate" is involved.

Whether there have been violations of state or federal laws.

Taft said:

"I think the State Department should protest. I think UNO should be required to make over its plans and reduce its site to a reasonable size."

Langer also introduced a resolution urging selection of a site on the North Dakota-Manitoba border. He said that while the Connecticut site is high-priced, free land would be available for the joint U. S.-Canadian location.

Sawdust Avalanche Suffocates N. H. Man

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 8 (AP).—Omer Horne, 34, of nearby Bow, died of suffocation under a pile of sawdust last night as he was loading a truck at Turkey Pond. Horne's 10-year-old son Donald told police the 30-foot pile caved in on his father.

DOUGHTON'S WIFE DEAD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP).—Mrs. Robert L. Doughton, wife of Chairman Doughton (D.) of North Carolina, of the House ways and means committee, died in a Washington hospital today following a brief illness.

All Big 4 Judges Have Bodyguards

NUERNBERG, Feb. 8 (AP)—The U. S. Army announced today that personal bodyguards had been assigned to each of the United States, British, Soviet and French judges, alternate judges, prosecutors and assistant prosecutors at the International Military Tribunal.

Brig. Gen. Leroy H. Watson, responsible for security at the tribunal, said the move was a routine safety measure.

Hunt W. Roxbury Student on Coast

William Jacobs, Weld st., West Roxbury, student at University of California, has been missing since Feb. 2 in Yosemite valley; it was disclosed today.

Disclosure came when the youth's parents, Col. Vincent H. Jacobs of the adjutant general's office, and Mrs. Jacobs departed for the West Coast from Logan Airport to aid in the search.

Ox on Rampage Tours Brighton

Fourteen hundred pounds of prime beef today turned tables on the meat packers.

An ox, which objected to its fate at the hands of slaughterers, broke away from the Brighton abattoir and went on a sight-seeing tour, across Cottage Farm bridge and along Memorial dr.

Brighton police, following at a respectful distance, pumped 10 shots into the animal without effect. The next two found their mark.

Dutch Hope for Indonesia Pact

LONDON, Feb. 8 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council interrupted debate on the Indonesian dispute today to study statements of the interested nations, including a Dutch declaration that a "very liberal" settlement of Indonesian independence aspirations was hoped for shortly. The council will meet tomorrow to try to arrive at a solution satisfactory to the Soviet Ukraine, which charged that British troops in Indonesia were endangering world peace, and at the same time acceptable to Great Britain and The Netherlands.

Nab 2 Lynn Men In Bag Snatch

Quick action by Swampscott police early today led to the arrest of two Lynn men less than an hour after Mrs. Gertrude Parks, 61, Essex st., Swampscott, reported she had been attacked and her hand bag stolen.

Mrs. Parks said the two men stepped from the shadows as she arrived at her home, one struck her and the pair grabbed her pocketbook and ran.

Charles P. Samarco, Jr., 39, Pleasant st., and Frederick E. Cameron, 25, Tremont st., both of Lynn, were arrested by Swampscott and Lynn police after the officers had traced them through a taxi driver.

In Lynn court both pleaded not guilty to robbery charges and were held in $3000 each.

Hohenzollern Prince Held by U. S. Army

FRANKFURT, Feb. 8 (INS)—Prince Franz Josef von Hohenzollern, nephew of the Bavarian pretender, Crown Prince Rupprecht, and uncle of Romania's King Michael, was taken into custody today by U. S. counter intelligence officers. He was charged with Nazi activity.

WHY MILLIONS TURN TO CHEWING GUM LAXATIVE

Mild and Pleasant. Works on scientific principle

Why is Peen-a-mint in chewing gum form? Science says: Chewing your food helps it to do the most good. Similarly, chewing Peen-a-mint prepares its fine medicine to give the greatest benefit—flows it gently and gradually into digestive system. Mild! Delicious! Candy-Coated! Children take it gladly when needed. When constipation makes you miserable, chew Peen-a-mint exactly as directed and feel fine again. Contains very medicine many doctors prescribe. 10c, 25c, 50c at drugstores.

U.S. Plans Return of War Dead

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8 (AP)—The Army has completed detailed plans for bringing home America's World War II dead beginning this spring, if Congressional authorization is granted, the San Francisco Chronicle said today. The newspaper said its information was based on official but unrestricted plans. It did not disclose its source of information, except to state it was contained in documents now being submitted to high War Department officials for final approval.

A bill dealing with return of war dead has passed the House and now is before the Senate military affairs committee.

Other points included in the Chronicle story: The dead will be returned from 64 sites in 86 countries and islands.

New York will be the major receiving point for dead from Europe and the Atlantic area; San Francisco for those from the Pacific area.

The first burial ship is scheduled to leave San Francisco April 1, and thereafter one ship a month will leave both San Francisco and New York.

The project is expected to take at least 18 months.

Cost of the project has been unofficially estimated at $500,000,000.

If next of kin desire, the dead will be left where they are now buried.

Civilian employees under Army supervision will be used extensively in the graveyard work.

Liberty ships, painted white with a purple band around the hull, will carry the dead.

The caskets will be walnut-stained, each covered with an American flag.

Each burial ship will carry from 6500 to 7000 boxes.

Longshoremen handling the unloading will be asked to wear clean, blue dungarees and be hatless.

Specially-converted trains will carry the dead to distribution points.

Disposition forms will be mailed next of kin within a reasonable time before exhumations begin in any given area.

Seek Identity of Injured Woman

South Boston police are still seeking to establish identity of an elderly woman, between 58 and 60, found in a doorway in Broadway suffering from a head injury. At City Hospital she has been unable to talk and explain how she came by the injury or identify herself.

She is 5 feet 6 inches tall, of medium complexion, mixed gray hair and was wearing a black cloth coat over a purple bathrobe and blue sweater, brown shoes and black stockings.

60 Held After Paris Royalist-Leftist Riot

PARIS, Feb. 8 (INS)—Sixty persons were in custody today following a clash between monarchists and a group of socialists, communists and other left-wing factions.

The disorders followed a meeting of monarchists adherents last night.

St. Clement's Offers Solemn Ceremony

The sound and fury of turbulent world affairs fades quickly when the door closes noiselessly behind worshippers entering the quiet, impressive Shrine of Perpetual Adoration established in St. Clement's Church at Boylston and Ipswich sts., Back Bay.

White-clad Missionary Sisters of St. Francis, custodians of the Shrine, kneel hour after hour before the Holy Eucharist, exposed on the altar throughout the day and most of the night.

With outstretched hands, their faces completely veiled, the devout nuns offer prayers as a steady procession of worshippers slip silently into pews to join their appeals with those of the sisters who have dedicated their lives to adoration of Christ.

Once each week the Host remains exposed for 24 consecutive hours. Throughout that period, men and women called the Knights and Ladies of the Blessed Sacrament kneel in adoration.

The women stand vigil with the nuns during the daylight hours and the Knights take the lonely night watches, assuring the presence of at least one person throughout the exposition.

The Shrine was established May 3, 1945, by Archbishop Cushing in "an effort to bring God to His people."

Daily mass is said for the semi-clostered nuns who live in the rear of the Shrine.

3 Big Cruisers Out of Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—The Navy is sending its three new and mighty battle cruisers to the limbo of laid-up ships.

Their chances for active duty are slim, Navy men said today. The 27,500-ton ships—Alaska, Guam and Hawaii—were built to match enemy vessels such as Germany's Scharnhorst.

But changing mode of warfare and manpower limitations has headed them for obscurity long before their time.

The Alaska was commissioned in June, 1944, the Guam in September of the same year. The Hawaii has been scheduled for completion this year.

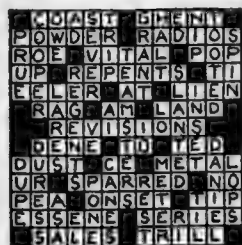

O. K. Price Ceilings On New Homes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (INS)—The House banking committee today approved an emergency housing bill carrying authority for the government to fix ceiling prices on new homes.

Ceiling price on new homes would be determined by the housing administrator, and would be based on the cost of construction plus a reasonable profit.

Adoption

often the only advice she will accept.

"In his desire to help her and also, in some cases, to protect the foster mother who may also be one of his patients, the doctor loses sight of the community significance involved in an adoption.

"Society has a stake in any adoption as all children should be safeguarded.

"An adoption made from a good impulse which ends in grief for the foster parents if the child turns out badly, or in harm to the child if the foster parents have not been investigated fully, reacts against the good of the community as a whole.

"We know that some lawyers and some doctors collect legal fees and medical fees for their part in an adoption. But those who do not, often cause just as much harm."

Miss Cannon said the Massachusetts General Hospital had instituted rigid regulations to safeguard itself and to halt any operation of a "black market" in babies within its wards.

Any doctor bringing a patient to the hospital, if she is unwed, is required to reveal her true identity to administrative authorities of the hospital, although it is agreed that this information will be strictly confidential.

"In the wards," she said, "the patient may be called by any name the doctor chooses so that nurses, doctors and attendants are not aware of her unmarried status."

In addition, Dr. Nathaniel W. Faxon, head of the hospital, insists that no baby born at the hospital may be transferred to adoptive parents while still at the hospital unless the doctor in the case signs a hospital release form and thus identifies himself with the transaction.

In this manner, one large and efficiently operated hospital is doing its best to cope with the threat of a black market in babies.

The market, in fact, has increased in the past few years since there was an increase in the number of illegitimate births during the war and most of the buying and selling occurs among illegitimate children.

The Children's Bureau of the U. S. Dept. of Labor, in an extensive survey in the 48 states, disclosed that 73 per cent of the children for whom adoption petitions were filed in Massachusetts were borne out of wedlock, the largest percentage of any state in the union.

Liner Yukon Missing Now 11

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Feb. 8 (AP)—The number rescued from the wreck of the liner Yukon stood at 486 today and the Alaska Steamship Co. said its list of missing totaled 11.

Seattle authorities said the city's supply of penicillin was exhausted by the demands of the Seward Hospital for treatment of survivors for exposure.

Leslie W. Baker, spokesman for the line, said those not yet accounted for were six military personnel, two crewmen and three civilian passengers.

Jail Nazi 'Poets' For Gibes at GIs

NUERNBERG, Feb. 8 (AP)—Thirteen youthful members of "Christian Pathfinders"—a group distributing verse derogatory to American troops and compiling lists of frauds who fraternize with U. S. soldiers—were sentenced today to terms ranging from 45 days to five years at Coburg.

Four other teen-age boys were given terms ranging from five to 15 years in a second trial for possessing explosives.

Loan Curb in GI Bill to Be Eased

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—A Veterans' Administration official said today it may be possible to put broadened loan provisions of the GI Bill of Rights into effect next month.

New rules make it simpler for a World War II vet to borrow. They became law Dec. 28 but the VA was given 90 days to complete extensive paper work necessary. Meanwhile older, tougher regulations apply.

Veterans complained of difficulties under the old law. Only 62,014 had qualified for loans on Jan. 26, VA said. The government's share of loan guarantees had crawled barely past $100,000,000.

Only 4296 approved loans were for businesses. Other vets borrowed for farms and homes.

Defaults have cost the government $30,608. There were 37, one on a home, two on farms, 35 on businesses.

James C. Dunn Seen U. S. Envoy to Rome

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (INS)—Informed sources predicted today James C. Dunn, United States deputy on the London Council of Foreign Ministers, would become American ambassador to Rome.

Dunn holds the title of assistant secretary of state for western European affairs and has frequently been subject to criticism as a "rightist."

GI Dad of 8, Who Rakes in $4700 a Year, Back in Army

CLEVELAND, Feb. 8 (AP)—S. Sgt. Anthony R. Schiavoni, who has eight children and made $4700 a year in the Army, is one man Uncle Sam didn't have to use much persuasion on to get him to re-enlist.

As Tony puts it, he's doing all right in the Army.

"Of course, I hate leaving the kids and my wife again, but I like Army life and I think I can do best for my family by staying in," he explains.

The wife of the 34-year-old aerial gunner, who flew 14 combat missions over Formosa, the Philippines and Indo-China feels about the same.

"The Army is a nice career for a man. I am proud and happy that Tony is serving the country and the government can make use of him," she said.

It probably would take an accountant to figure out everything Tony will draw from the government, but this is an idea.

Base pay, $96 a month; family allotments, $200; 20 per cent additional pay for overseas service and 50 per cent more for flying time. His eight children range from 2 to 13 years.

Sarge'll Get a New Collar

The vivisectionists will never get "Sarge," the pet dog and constant companion of 7-year-old Marjorie Joan Pantan, Greenwood ave., Hyde Park.

A third grade pupil at the Eihu Greenwood School, she is today's winner of the $5 prize in the Boston Record-American contest, "Why I Love My Dog." She writes:

"Sarge was sent to me by the Marines at Parris Island when he was a puppy. I trained him to go to school with me every day and when I arrive at the schoolhouse I give him a hug and a big kiss and say, 'Now, Sarge, go right home,' and off he goes.

"When the 12 o'clock whistle blows my mother says to him, 'Sarge, go meet Marjorie Joan,' and he comes right up to the door to meet me. No one would dare harm me as Sarge is right at my side.

"I love him with all my heart and would not want anyone to hurt him, for I would feel terrible. I wish every little girl and boy could own a dog like Sarge, for they would surely have one of the best companions they could want.

"I am going to buy Sarge a new collar if I win the prize." (You can start shopping now, Marjorie Joan.)

All letters on the subject, "Why I Love My Dog," should be addressed to the Anti-Vivisection Editor, Boston Record-American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston 6, Mass. The contest is open to all and these newspapers will award a $5 prize each day for the best letter.

BETTER HOMES

CHANGES in building methods to put housing construction on an assembly line basis are needed to solve the present critical shortage of homes.

This is the opinion of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John O'Grady of the Catholic University of America, a principal speaker at Archbishop Cushing's two-day conference on industrial problems.

"Soon after Pearl Harbor, President Roosevelt told the people we would have to produce fifty thousand planes a year," the distinguished monsignor said.

"At the time he was criticized and it was contended that this was impossible because planes could not be built with assembly-line methods as automobiles had been.

"But the critics were confounded when not only fifty thousand planes a year were produced but the figure was doubled.

"We can do this in building homes, but we must change our present methods."

The time to begin this most essential program is NOW. Nothing will be accomplished by delaying the mass production of houses until a substantial part of the population is living in tents or under trees.

If all the knowledge and skill of Twentieth Century science were used in assembly-line home building, houses would be ten times as attractive and at least 40 per cent cheaper.

BRITAIN LEARNS

ACCORDING TO the Trans-Atlantic edition of the London Daily Mail, the ominous experience of the country under the first six months of the Labor government has been that:

"The more coal Britain needs, the less it gets."

In spite of urgent appeals by the government, the newspaper reports, miners are leaving the pits at the rate of seventy thousand a year and consequently coal production—an industrial necessity—has gone steadily down and is still going down.

"What has gone wrong?" the paper asks. "Can it be that the magic word 'nationalization' has proved to be just ANOTHER illusion?"

Thus called to account for the situation, the Labor government has taken refuge in the assertion that previous mining practices under private enterprise are responsible for the present dilemma.

But, retorts the Daily Mail:

"Labour leaders THEMSELVES have spoken with admiration of the coal production achievements of America, Holland and Germany.

"These were the RESULTS of private enterprise."

The truth of the matter, the newspaper concludes, is not that private enterprise failed in the past, but that:

"The man-power question has been muddled and mismanaged for six months, while the promise of nationalization has DEADENED activity."

That is the inexorable fact in the situation, and the British people are becoming convinced of the fact—the labor elements no less than the general public.

The hand of the government in the management of the productive life of any country is a DEAD hand, as the British people are learning the hard way.

BAD SITUATION

BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL is crowded literally to the doors with persons who broke legs and arms in falls on icy pavements.

A great many of the unfortunate persons stepped from behind parked cars into the paths of approaching trucks and slipped as they were scrambling to safety.

Vehicles standing bumper to bumper against the curbing blocked their vision and contributed to the accidents.

This will not happen when the Legislature permits the city to build the long-overdue garage under Boston Common.

Then, parked cars will be where they belong—safely out of sight, though always readily available to their owners.

THAT TYPE of entertainment known as "burlesque," which has been banned for a period in New York city, may be permitted again. If it is, burlesque producers better revert to the type of show featured on the old Columbia circuit. In these shows comedy predominated, vulgarity was given the soft pedal. Nowadays burlesque show producers specialize in double entendre dialogue, vulgar bits of business and strip-tease dancers. Especially the latter. As somebody once said in a campaign against this type of show: "Give a burlesque producer an inch and he will make a costume."

HORSES & WOMEN: "So you say that, at times, you think women are harder to figure out than the horses," writes a Chicagoan. "You don't really mean that, Eddie. Those horses are really hard to figure. As for women, take that subscriber who wrote you she has been married 25 years to a man she loves but has never liked him. She is only acting true to form, which, alas, the horses rarely do. Like all women, she loves the things he gives, but as for him—she doesn't like him. She loves him for her sake but can't love him for his sake, if you get what I mean. I remember when I first began to worry about losing my hair. I thought it would affect my standing with females. A pal said: 'Aw, don't worry about it. If you get as bald as a billiard ball the girls will still call you 'Daddy' if you've got a little sugar.' Funny thing. It turned out just as he said."

AS IT WAS: "I remember Marion Leonard, who was the star of the Biograph picture, 'The Lonely Villa,' in which Mary Pickford was just one of the cast."

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1936, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

MANY LETTERS from American servicemen protesting against nasty little impositions inflicted by young officers who would seem to have been well-schooled in the privileges of rank but to have learned little about the responsibilities.

Westbrook Pegler

Several old cavalymen have saluted the late Gen. George Patton as one who, in his junior days, knew and enforced the rights of the enlisted soldiers.

By contrast, the criticisms, most of them general rather than specific, report that many junior officers used their rank to snatch up fountain-pens, watches and other paltry luxuries which came in the PX supplies and used jeeps to attend parties exclusively for officers.

They had better quarters and food and estranged themselves from the enlisted people, being more interested in German women than in their obligations to their own countrymen in the ranks.

THE COMPLAINTS against government commitments and policy seem less valid because neither the servicemen nor the civilians at home know what those commitments are or what the nation, through Congress, will undertake in the policing of enemy countries, the manning of outposts and the salvage of American property.

Many of the writers bitterly resent the imposition on veteran soldiers of juvenile courses in saluting and the pomposity and indifference of high officers who are accused of turning them out in bad weather for inspections and reviews and keeping them waiting.

The latter certainly is no novelty for some generals, since long ago, have thought it somehow good for a division of soldiers to await the royal pleasure of the boss who might then stride by, or even ride by in a car accompanied by high officers of some Allied army, and show off his troops like well-disciplined animals. That there could have been such stupid, vain and self-important fools in the high ranks and such selfish and petty squirts in the junior grades in the American services in this war passes understanding.

GENERAL MARSHALL is a Pershing man, to be sure, and Pershing was a cold commander. But Marshall, himself, is well-mannered, modest and not one to strut his own importance for its own sake at the expense of the comfort and self respect of the enlisted soldier.

Patton, also, was a Pershing man but, notwithstanding the slapping incident, had way with soldiers which begot confidence and, with most of them, respect.

Somewhere between the top and the ranks there must have been slackness, inattention and incompetence if these reports are true. A man in Gen. Eisenhower's position in Germany would accuse himself of serious failure if such inattention, self-indulgence and neglect set in under his command and progressed, without correction from the top, until it caused demonstrations.

He and Gen. MacArthur had the power that every general fears who is lolling in luxury and corroding the morale of the soldiers by setting them unnecessarily to menial jobs and basing lessons.

No general wants to be sent home tagged a failure at the climax of his career, and the mere threat of this usually is sufficient to frighten a fat-head from his splendid complacency and send the same impulse all the way down the line.

And certainly no high commander has a right to say he didn't know this sort of dirty work was going on, if it was, for with efficient staff work such evils could not go unnoticed long.

MEANWHILE, however, as great a mystery, if all these grievances are real, has been the absolute failure of the civilian correspondents of our newspapers and the press associations to report this rot.

It seems to have set in since the shooting stopped and therefore some good reporter should have used his eyes and ears and his sense of something stirring to get the truth.

To say that censorship forbade such repetitions is pathetic. Suppose a correspondent were fired and even discredited for a time. Meanwhile, he would have scared the gold bricks and put the high generals on warning that bad trouble was brewing.

And, if I know the newspaper business, not many executives in the home office would have thrown down a reporter whose past record and personal character commanded their confidence.

Meanwhile, also, such corruption, so dangerous to the nation and so detrimental to the Army and Navy in the opinion of the whole people, would have been abated if not cured.

It was not merely a risk worth running. It was the duty which a reporter assumes in compensation for the right of a free press.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 8—Maurice Chevalier, singing star of prewar days, arrives here April 1 to talk about a movie deal. He is being brought to America by B. P. Schulberg, with whom he was associated at Paramount 15 or more years ago.

Chevalier said, when he was accused of being a collaborator, that he would never come to America until he was entirely cleared. Apparently the so charming Maurice is in the clear, for he and his bride are headed in our direction.

Maurice Chevalier

I remember so well an amusing story about Maurice. He decided he would sing "Louise" as his first song on the American screen. Nat Fillion, head of the music department, handed him a copy of the music. "This is in English," said Maurice, "and I can't read a word—just play it." The truth of the matter was that Chevalier couldn't read a note of music, but once it was played he could sing any song.

GARY COOPER is top choice for the male lead in "State of the Union" at Paramount, and I'll be surprised indeed if he doesn't put his name on the contract. Emissaries from Henry Ginsberg have been talking with Gary, and, believe me, he hasn't been deaf to their offer. Of course, the play is still running so strong in New York that it will be 1947 before it ever hits the screen. But it's not too early to make plans.

HEAVEN HELP US! We're going to have a surrealist movie! Well, we've had everything else, so I guess we can take it—especially since Salvador Dali is going to design and draw, in his own style, an animated picture for Walt Disney. Your guess is as good as mine as to what will happen. Dali is a great artist and Disney is an artistic and able producer. As for surrealism—in our movies—I wouldn't be knowing the result. The story will be based on the well known Latin song, "Destino," by Armando Dominguez, which translated roughly means "My Destiny of Love." Ray Gilbert has written English lyrics.

I STEPPED OUT on the "Till the Clouds Roll By" set and saw an exact duplicate of Jerry Kern's "Showboat," of which I attended the opening night in New York. Arthur Freed whispered in my ear that it's a whole new career for Tony Martin. Tony certainly looks handsome as Ravenel, and Lena Horne is but beautiful as Julie, and Kathryn Grayson certainly a great prima donna as Magnolia. Tony tells me he'll only stay in Chicago at the Chez Paree for a month because he feels he wants to get really back in pictures. I am so happy that he is not one bit bitter over his experiences and seems to feel that whatever happened turned out for the best.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Early this morning, Adita, oldest sister of Maria Montez, took the plane back to the Dominican Republic after a battle with her famous sister. Maria's three sisters have been living with her, and she ordered Adita out of the house and forbade her sisters or Jean Pierre Aumont to go near her. But when the plane left, they were all there to see Adita off. Sister had wired and received money from mother. Knowing Maria as I do, I'll bet the plane hadn't been gone an hour before she was sorry, but it was too late. Shers to the hospital in three weeks to have her baby, was will be a Caesarian operation.

WHEN I WIT backstage to see gay, spang Tallulah Bankhead after the first night of "Foolish Wren." I didn't know of any age and movie deal on the 2 for her, or, naturally, I wld have asked her about it. I hear now that the one and of Tallu is being sought by Dai Bramson for his New York age production of L. Bush-Fete's and Mary Fay's new play "The Big Two." Later it will be made into a movie. Smartif him to want Bankhead for both stage and movie. She makes a success of everything. It's a story about the U. S. and Russia, and Bramson's wife, Mary McCall, is already working on the movie script.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Just can't be true that Ken Murray has been telephoning Edith Fellows long-distance to New York. Seems yesterday she was a little girl; ran into Hedy Lamarr with Jimmy, her little boy, who is recovering nicely from his automobile accident. Hedy was buying him books. She says

Boston American, Feb. 8—27

John Loder is still living away from home but comes to see the baby every day; Ella Raines and Phillip Reed, who first found each other good company in New York, were a twosome at the Look award dinner; Mae West goes into a Schubert show in New York, "Ring Twice Tonight." Bet Mike Todd is glad it's the Schuberts who are producing it. He and Mae just couldn't see eye to eye; Irina Nalinsky, niece of the famous ballet dancer Nijinsky, is marrying Stanley Raelz at the Greek Orthodox Church next Sunday.

BOB HOPE may win an Academy Award after all. He's going to get a dramatic picture at Paramount: Rita Hayworth, his sister, and Gary Delmar glimpsed at Kane's restaurant, where everyone goes these days for eastern lobster. Dick Haynes, still shaky, reported for work after 10 days' illness; Joyce Moss gets the local editors' spot on Photoplay magazine. Elaine Ostrom returned to look after her new child; Lt. (jg) Dennis Day, whom you used to hear on the Jack Benny show, a twosome with Eugenia Band at the Palladium. That's all today. See you tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Times Square Cuff Notes: Broadway waxes who used to growl "You're out of the world," now say, "Honey, you're off to the moon!" . . . The handsome couple dining among the less-knowns at the Colony the other night were Maj. Winthrop Rockefeller and beautiful Pat Smart. (Maj. Rockefeller, who might have had any table in the house, characteristically chose one that most of the socially self-conscious customers of the Colony would spurn as "too far back") . . . Annamary Dickey turned down a fabulous offer to appear at a Las Vegas hotel. The inn wanted its gambling casino to be the first ever to present a Metropolitan Opera star in person . . . Nancy Newton, of the late "Nellie Bly" ballet, receives orchids daily from Bill Plowe, of the 57-varieties clan . . . Silver-thatched ex-champ Barney Ross tells friends that John Garfield will produce as well as star in the story of his life and Marine Corps experiences. This will be Garfield's second portrayal of a World War II Marine hero, the first having been Al Schmid, who was blinded in action . . . The first robin (bird) has been sighted in these parts. MRS. EVELYN WAUGH, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Evelyn Waugh, Mrs. Leann, Washington's most indefatigable hostess, is bemoaning the loss of a valuable pepper pot which vanished from her humble little dwelling (Haw!) during a soiree the other evening.

This pepper pot has no reference to the pasty of Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, who is frequently a guest of the Hope diamonds, but is a family heirloom from which Mrs. McLean says is of great sentimental value. You know how sentimental people can. Mrs. McLean got over a pepper pot; they sit snuffing it for hours, eyes reddened with tears.

Whoever the scurvy knave may be, if he has one spark of human feeling he will return it at once.

He doesn't want poor Mrs. McLean left without a pepper pot to sneeze in, does he?

LETTER FROM SECRETARY of the Senate Leslie Biffle: "You lucky devil! Here we are in Washington with eight inches of snow and you are basking in the sunshine of Florida. Please go into a bar and have a drink to your poor friends in the office of the secretary of the Senate."

"Another one of the girls in my office, Miss Dorothy Gallup, has just gotten married. Folks are beginning to term my office 'Cupid's Corner.'"

"We miss you, old scout, but want you to stay and get a good rest. That afternoon's work you did a couple of months ago must have taken a lot out of you."

NATURALLY, Secretary Biffle.

ALL AROUND TOWN:

He is only kidding about taking a drink because we are both very straightlaced, except possibly Mr. Biffle. His office is filled with Senators from morning to night, so, of course, he would know next to nothing about drinking.

MR. BIFFLE'S office is certainly getting to be a matrimonial mart. He had three secretaries, seemingly unattached. Then Miss Betty Hart married a gentleman named Kraus; Miss Betty Euler up and married Jack Durling, a manager of the Senate restaurant, and now Miss Gallup has gone and done it.

I do not know whom the latter married because Mr. Biffle, having never been a women's page editor, neglected to state. But I hope the bridegroom is a respectable party because Miss Gallup is the daughter of a retired Baptist preacher.

Actually, I am very put out with Miss Gallup. I thought the dame had a crush on me.

PROBABLY the most hilarious social function Miami Beach has seen in a long time was the farewell party the other night for Mr. Bert Wheeler, the eminent movie and stage comedian.

The host was Mr. Joe E. Lewis, who put the guest of

No Sale!

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8 (AP)—Edward Hamler, 20-year-old former sailor and a victim of the housing shortage, thought he had found a bargain.

A real estate agent told him he knew of a real buy at $5000 which would be available in about the month.

"I'll take you around to see it," the agent said. Then Hamler learned the address. It was the house of his parents, where he and his wife are visiting.

There was no sale.

Monte Carlo's host, Sam Salvin, has turned the phrase "night club tan" from a sarcastic figure of speech into a pleasant reality for his cafe's service crew. He returned from Florida recently with an unbearably healthy glow, and became so conscience-stricken over the paste-like complexion of his waiters that he installed a sun lamp in their locker room for use during rest periods . . . Drew Pearson's daughter Ellen, who is engaged to George Arnold, son of Judge Thurman Arnold, is taking a course—not in cookery or household budgeting, but in journalism—at N. Y. U. . . . When Sally Rand spiced Margie Mart at the Barbary Room the other evening, she asked to be introduced to her, and they chatted earnestly, presumably about the subject they knew best.

By George Dixon

honor right at his ease by remarking:

"I'll probably see you again some time—but I won't make a point of it!"

Mr. Lewis set the social pace for the evening by doing a back-fall which nearly broke his neck. Mr. Wheeler tried the same thing and practically knocked himself out. He struggled painfully to his feet and said:

"I will now attempt the finish we used to get us off the stage back in vaudeville." Pointing to a stooge in the audience, he said: "Do that finish." The stooge came up, absolutely deadpan, did a backflip, and he and Mr. Wheeler did an off-to-Buffalo exit.

A LINE which devastatingly epitomizes Miami Beach this season was provided by Mr. Jackie Miles. His face a mask of gravity, he said:

"I am making $175,000 a week—why should I talk cheaper than anyone else on the beach?"

THE PARTY was at a place called the Copacabana, which is currently being sued by the Copacabana in New York on a charge of plagiarizing the name.

Brig-Gen. Joseph Francis Battley was discussing the suit with Mr. Lewis, who alternates between the two places, and said:

"By the way, what does 'Copacabana' mean?"

Mr. Lewis said he would answer the question from the stage. Getting up he said:

"Gen. Battley has just asked me the meaning of Copacabana. It means 'come—and bring money!'"

SENATOR DENNIS CHAVEZ of New Mexico reports that a young lady in his office, Miss Francis Ortiz, is sorely annoyed at President Truman for urging voters to write their congressmen.

Exploded Miss Ortiz all in one breath:

"No does he think he is drumming up trade for us if we didn't have enough work now."

Boston After Dark

IN BOSTON TODAY—They say you can bet on "anything" . . . Considerable money has been wagered on the outcome of the "Curley case" . . . With Judge Proctor incapacitated with a strep throat, the verdict will be delayed for two days, and possibly more . . . You could get five ones tonight that the Mayor of Boston will continue in office and run the city without legal hindrance, although neither side of the wagering could give a sound basis for a bet . . . Of late, however, the short end has been profitable in a row have made monkeys of the New York price-makers, and three major basketball games have gone against the figures.

THE NEWEST phenomenal success in the restaurant line is the ham-and-egg place on Tremont st., near the Majestic Theatre. Vera Gradone, who was Lou Walters' business manager when that fabulous entrepreneur was running the Boston Latin Quarter, is the guiding light of Boston's latest "late spot" . . . Vera had a notion that a place dealing in an American food staple would be a worthy rival to almighty Chinese restaurants . . . She was right. But Vera's place does business on a 24-hour basis.

SCHOOL COMMITTEEMAN MICHAEL J. WARD was ill at home with a bothersome sacroiliac while the committee of arrangement of the Maj. John J. Dugan, U.S. Marine, to be held at the Copley-Plaza, April 25 was electing him toastmaster of the affair . . . David "Kid" Parker, the Boston sportsman-singer has been offered a contract by Darryl Zanuck, of 20th-Century Fox—to stay East.

BETTER PROOF-READING of "A Lion Is in the Streets" would have caught the obvious error in the text which gave credit to Franklin Roosevelt for devising the "1-foot subcommittee of World War I" . . . After the "11," there should have been an "0" . . . One Boston enterprise that pleaded loss in earnings to win a two and a half million assessment reduction would seem to be on a spot under the new city administration . . . Since it won its tax reduction, its earnings have soared $2,000,000 a year, approximately 20 per cent of its original assessment . . . Big news has been made already in the Suffolk Downs situation, but the news is one or two legal steps away from being news-copy . . . John Turner's appointment as Suffolk's new racing secretary was a straw in this wind.

A JAMAICA PLAIN woman who was an acquaintance, but not a supporter, of Mayor James M. Curley, was amazed to see the Mayor pushing one of those go-carts in a Jamaica Plain cash-and-carry grocery store the other day . . . In the knowledge that the Mayor had such weighty matter as a Washington Federal court decision of his appeal for a new trial on his mind, the Jamaica Plain housewife mustered enough courage to ask his Honor the reason for his shopping tour . . . The good Sisters of the Poor Clares had told the mayor that two families in his district were in dire need . . . He did the shopping for them himself.

THE FIRST SUBMARINE built in Boston will be launched Monday . . . Com. William Parme, U. S. N., a hero of the Pacific, will be the skipper . . . The company manager of "Deep Are the Roots" is Joe Moss . . . In the threadbare '30's, a name to conjure with in New York was the name Joe Moss . . . He owned the Hollywood Restaurant, the predecessor of the Latin Quarter and the most popular night club (for the tourists) in Manhattan . . . Could this be the same Joe Moss?

THE WAY THE UNO is making depressing headlines, Governor Tobin might not have been too unlucky in his valiant but losing quest to bring the international council to Massachusetts . . . When Russia's representatives are forced to accept the fact that even the weekly journals of Connecticut and outlying New York are free to print the opinions of their editors, a squawk or two a week against alleged hostility to the great Soviet should erupt from those brave journals, Pravda and Investia.

NAM Hits Atom Control by U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (INS)

—The National Ass'n of Manufacturers today vigorously opposed any program of government control of production, ownership and use of materials developing atomic energy.

The association's position was outlined to Congress by George E. Folk, NAM patent adviser, who denounced the McMahon and other atomic energy control bills in calling for free enterprise in nuclear energy development.

Hess Stricken At War Trial

NUERNBERG, Feb. 8 (AP)—Rudolf Hess, defendant at the war crimes trial, was taken ill during the noon recess today and was removed from the court building to a cell for examination.

He had suffered abdominal cramps.

Demanding the certain punishment of Goering and 20 other Nazi leaders, a Red army general charged the defendants had developed "the morals of cannibals and the greed of burglars in an entire generation of Germans."

Truman Won't Save Yamashita

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—The War Dept. announced today President Truman has decided to take no action on a clemency plea from Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, condemned Japanese.

The War Dept. announcement said Gen. MacArthur had been notified of the President's decision.

Undersecretary of War Kenneth C. Royall had told MacArthur not to carry out the death sentence against the erstwhile "Tiger of Malaya" pending presidential action.

President Truman's decision apparently had the effect of putting Yamashita's fate again in MacArthur's hands. The Supreme

Triplet Poundage

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—Triplets that weighed three pounds each at birth will tip the scales for a total of more than 1200 pounds today on their second birthday.

That is, if the keepers at the New York Zoological Park can get the three young tigers into the weighing cage.

Court Monday upheld the military commission which convicted Yamashita of condoning Philippine atrocities.

Yamashita was sentenced to death on the gallows.

NEWSPAPERMAN SLAIN

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8 (AP)—Howard Taylor, 45-year-old newspaperman, was found stabbed to death early today in the kitchen of his home. He occupied the same house in which James Whiteside, an artist, was killed in an unsolved, 1929 shooting.

Fire Kills Man, Toss Saves Girl

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 8—A five-year-old girl escaped unharmed when tossed from a window early today, but her 65-year-old grandfather died of burns received when fire destroyed a duplex house on Windsor st.

William Aldrich succumbed at Wesson Memorial Hospital from burns. His granddaughter, Dona Chandler, was uninjured after being tossed from a second story bedroom window by her Marine brother, Lester. She landed in a snowbank.

Seven others fled from the flames. Virginia Chandler was treated for cuts, received when she smashed a window to make her escape.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. MCENANEY

Q—If my application for schooling under the GI Bill is accepted and later I decide to buy a home under the same bill, will I be deprived of such benefit because of the former? Also could I hold a job in the daytime say for $20 a week and go to school nights under the GI Bill? J. A. C. Cambridge.

A—You would be eligible for both educational benefit and purchase of a home. May also attend night school under bill and work days. Matter regarding payment of subsistence would be settled by the Veterans Administration.

Q—Can a daughter claim her mother as a dependent if the latter is receiving $37 dependent allotment from a son in the Army? Is it necessary for the daughter to turn all her weekly earnings over to her mother to meet current household expenses? G. H. Rochester, N. H.

A—According to Income Tax Bureau you may claim two dependents in your return, providing that your mother does not receive income from sources other than monthly allotment.

Q—Has any action been taken to give enlisted men terminal leave prior to discharge similar to that which commissioned officers benefit by? "EX-GI," Brookline.

A—Hearings have been scheduled in Washington on a bill sponsored by the American Legion seeking to give enlisted men terminal leave with allowance for quarters and subsistence before discharge. The bill asks that enlisted men be given 2 1/2 days of leave for each month of active duty and allowance of $3.05 per day for subsistence and quarters, while on such leave. Senate military affairs committee has indicated approval of the measure. Another bill similar to above has a retroactive clause to pay men already discharged.

Q—Would you please tell me if the State of Pennsylvania has awarded a state bonus to veterans of this war? J. B. S., Stamford, Ct.

A—Not as yet, matter now before Legislature.

Beauty! Ruth Maglebee tells you how to achieve it every day in the Daily Record.

Nagle Becomes New State USES Director

Appointment of David G. Nagle as acting state director for the United States Employment Service was announced today. He succeeds Harold P. Reddin, who has been named veterans' employment representative in the New England area.

TONGUES CAN TELL first signs of "TISSUE STARVATION"

ADVANCED "Tissue Starvation" can cause pronounced scarlet-red discoloration and lesions of the tongue, as well as swelling, bleeding and soreness in the gums.

TONGUE LESIONS like these and tender gums may result from a continuing—even though relatively mild—deficiency of vitamins in the body.

"TISSUE STARVATION" is producible by a lack of vitamins in the living cells of your body—its signs often appear first in Eyes, Skin and Mouths

PERHAPS you don't notice your tongue much—others do. When you laugh—sometimes just talking—they notice it. So ask yourself—is my tongue healthy-looking? Or is it an unhealthy scarlet-red—fissured and "cracked"? The latter may be true if you have "Tissue Starvation"—producible by a shortage of vitamins in your body cells.

Vitamins are more than merely something you eat—they're part and parcel of every body tissue. And if you have a vitamin deficiency, the first signs of it may show on your tongue. Look at the pictures of "Tissue Starvation" above. The "Advanced Stage" of "Tissue Starvation" is very rare in the U. S. A. But beware the "Early" signs!

Of course, tongue lesions may result from other causes besides a vitamin deficiency—see your doctor if you think you have lesions as above. But "Tissue Starvation" is a basic and frequent reason. And thousands of Americans carry some signs of "Tissue Starvation," say medical reports, in tongues, eyes, skin and elsewhere. So help guard against this form of "Tissue Starvation" by taking multiple vitamins—take ALL the known needed vitamins, not just one or a few. One-A-Day (brand) Multiple Vitamin brings you vitamins A, B₁, B₂, C and D, plus Niacin, Amide, Calcium Pantothenate and B₆—all in a single capsule.

Who Is STANDARD & POOR'S

Ever since 1860, this organization has assembled, analyzed, interpreted and published financial and investment information.

This vital material is used by virtually all large banks, security dealers, and increasing thousands of corporate and individual investors.

Since we cover continually thousands of widely held securities, we undertake a vast amount of fact-finding, research, statistical compilation and analysis.

We maintain groups of highly trained experts, each member being carefully chosen for background and knowledge of the industry to which he is assigned. We employ field investigators from coast to coast.

Corporate executives are interviewed regularly.

We secure important information of a type that never appears in newspapers or corporate statements.

Our own conclusions concerning every significant company are checked constantly with the men in closest touch with the problems we are investigating. In short...

Why Prompt Action Should Enable You to Profit in the Second Phase of the Bull Market Which Appears Ahead

There are tremendous forces in existence which will spur this country into peacetime prosperity.

Anticipated buying power and demand of the American people will be translated into terms of corporate earnings which, in turn, are reflected in higher stock prices. Wise investors will appreciate this and lay the foundation now for future profits from common stocks.

You can have this company's confidential list of 115 stocks rated BUY as a part of the special offer below.

We have literally put thousands of securities through the analytical sieve, discarding all but those which we consider outstandingly attractive. Recent prices of these 115 stocks showed: 12 selling under $10—41 between $10 and $20—62 above $20.

This Is Your Opportunity

We will send you this confidential "buy" list of 115 common stocks with a 3-months trial subscription to THE OUTLOOK, a Service for Investors. It keeps you informed of important investment trends and developments and enables you to invest with added safety. It brings you definite advice—

Which stocks to buy, and when
Which stocks to hold
Which stocks to sell, and when Reinvestment advice.

This Special Offer Brings You

in addition to THE OUTLOOK:

1. Standard & Poor's confidential Buy list of 115 common stocks.
2. A copy of S & P's Stock Guide which gives you valuable information and definite market opinions on well over 3,200 stocks—the most important issues listed on exchanges throughout the country and sold over the counter.
3. A Security Record for your stocks and other security holdings so that you can have at all times a complete and comprehensive picture of your holdings.

Important for use with our confidential Buy List.
Invaluable for the beginner—important for the informed investor.

The Most Important Period in 100 Years—Ahead!

We have ahead of us in this country probably the most important period in 100 years... a "Good Times" era.

This period will witness a great industrial boom that will sweep us on to a higher standard of living than we have yet experienced. World trade will revive. New products will attain mass production. Venture capital will come out of hiding.

Corporate profits will rise to new peaks. Dividends will advance more sharply. Money rates will remain low.

All of this makes for a strong stock market. Indeed, we may witness buying and selling of securities on a scale that has not been approached since the days of pyramidal margin accounts.

Air Colonel's Story of How Lindbergh Shot Down Japs

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—Col. Charles MacDonald relates in Collier's how Charles A. Lindbergh, while a civilian aircraft observer, downed a Jap plane which had escaped destruction by four veteran American fighter pilots.

Lindbergh, the writer says, flew 50 fighter pilot missions against the Japs while an observer for the United Aircraft Corp.

Recalling events on the day Lindbergh scored his kill, MacDonald said after two P-38's exhausted their ammunition trying to down a Sonia type Jap craft, he, Lindbergh and Maj. Danny Miller arrived.

MacDonald and Miller, flying

P-38's, made "passes" at the enemy and missed.

The article then continues: "This was Lindbergh's first sight of a Jap plane in the air, and there he was, closing head on, with their combined speeds close to 600 miles per hour. I could see the Jap in a slight climb and Lindbergh in a slight dive. Their guns spitting bullets so fast the muzzles resembled acetylene torches.

"For moments which seemed years, the antagonists came at each other. Lindbergh's cannon and machine-gun bullets jolted into the Jap. His slight advantage in height prompted him to try to go over the Jap. He pulled back the stick with all his strength. The badly hit enemy tried for a crash.

As Lindbergh's plane started up, the Jap pulled up violently. He was too late. The two missed by a narrow margin. The Sonia rolled over like a broken toy and began a long dive that ended in the sea."

Last Nov. 30, Rep. Noah Mason (R) of Illinois said Lindbergh shot down several enemy planes while making test flights in the Pacific, but Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the Far East Air Forces, said that day there was no record of Lindbergh shooting down Jap planes.

CELEBRATING the end of mid-year exams at Briardiff post deb Ann Sargent came home for a short visit and brought her classmate Blakey Pierpont of New York. Their dates included samba-ing in a foursome at the Copley Plaza Oval Room where golden-haired Ann whirled around the floor with John Marno and wore a back dress with perky peplum studded with gold beads. Her house guest chose a springlike navy dress printed with white ballet dancers.

The same evening post deb Jane Alles had a dancing date with Gere Eckfeldt and Betty Roberts came up from the North Shore for a dinner date with Charlie Tarbell of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Railback, Jr. (Mittie Ott), entertained at dinner for Lt. Frederick Walker and his attractive date Lillian Blackburn.

RIDE IN THE ELEGANT AND SAVE

36—Boston American, Feb. 8

Debutantes Joan Livermore and Mary Kay Arnold took off yesterday with Joan's mother, Mrs. Harris Livermore of Chestnut Hill, for a motor trip to the Sunny South. They plan to visit Richmond, Va., Charleston, S. C., and spend a couple of weeks at St. Petersburg before returning in time for the girls to attend rehearsals of the Vincent Club's spring musical. Mr. and Mrs. Leon M. Little of Chestnut Hill are spending a few days at the Waldorf Astoria in New York.

BOSTONIANS had a chance to meet some of their favorite authors in person and hear of their experiences as writers at the luncheon given by the Authors' Luncheon Group at the Copley Plaza yesterday.

Literary lights included Trentwell Mason White, president of Lesley College and one of Boston's well known writers, who was toastmaster; Kenneth Davis, who described some of his associations with Gen. Eisenhower while writing the General's biography; John Gould, Yankee farmer and author of "Farmer Takes a Wife"; and Laurie Hillyer, Vermont housewife and mother, also a successful short story writer and novelist whose "Time Remembered" is a best seller.

Mrs. White, charming in an emerald wool dress with silver buttons, and Mrs. Davis who came over from New York for the occasion, were head table guests with their husbands.

Mrs. Alexander Steiner, chairman of the Authors' Luncheon Group, presided, and her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Newman, assisted. Mrs. John Moseley Abbot with hostess duties during the pre-luncheon reception. Mrs. Newman wore a soft apple green dress and gay little frilled ribbon hat to match. Mrs. Abbot was very modish in beige sheer wool with short brown gloves, gold bracelets and a cerise satin hat.

Guests enjoying the affair included Mrs. Russell Coolidge who attended with Mrs. Arthur Cushing, chairman of the Avery lecture series; Mrs. James Linscott whose black dress was trimmed with jet and complemented by a pink ostrich tip hat; Mrs. Walter Powers, Mrs. Wm. Dana Orcutt, Mrs. Harry Hayward, Miss Clara Endicott Sears, Mrs. Hugh Bancroft, Mrs. Timothee Adamowski, and Miss Clara Endicott Sears.

A THEATER GUILD opening night always attracts a diamond studded audience and Monday evening when the Guild presents "He Who Gets Slapped" at the Colonial Theater will be no exception. First nighters will include Mr. and Mrs. Chester S. Brett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Forrest Dowe, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd DeGroat, Mr. and Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller, the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Lindsay and many more.

MRS. RALPH BRADLEY will head the pourers at the Pan-American Society's farewell reception today for Brazilian Consul Americo de Galvao-Bueno and his family, who are leaving Boston for a new post. Mrs. Philip Sylvester, Mrs. Jasper Whiting, Mrs. Walter H. Bradley and Mrs. Amos L. Hopkins will also be hostesses.

N. Y. Investment Cos. Buy B. & M. Bonds

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (INS) —

Two investment companies announced they have purchased from the Reconstruction Finance Corp. $18,000,000 worth of Boston & Maine R. R. first mortgage bonds. The firms, Morgan Stanley & Co., and Dick & Merle Smith, are re-offering the bonds, due July 1, 1960, at 103 per cent and interest. The Boston & Maine itself purchased $2,375,000 of the bonds for retirement, reducing the railroad's first mortgage debt to $64,139,000.

U.S. Dean Calls Schools Vital

American universities are becoming the most important centers of world education, Dean James M. Landis of Harvard law school declared today in his annual report.

Students from Europe and Asia are being drawn here to study our democratic culture and technical developments. One of the most important changes in international relationships resulting from the war is to be found in the teaching and practice of law, he declared. He emphasized the legal problems confronting airlines.

A greater impact of civil law on American law and expansion of export trade mean a great need for men conversant with foreign

WITH THE delicacy of a fine line engraving, Maurice Renier does a tunic dress of black faille frosted with white pique. The lines are seemingly simple . . . but harmoniously in tune with spring's new silhouette. The flare of the tunic is contrived to give due emphasis to a slender waist . . . the shoulder is rounded gently . . . the touch of white at the throat is simple and direct . . . and the flashing pique cuff is as intriguing as the cool glint of a seaplane wing in the sun. Planning a Menu Needs Much Extra Effort Now

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

IN THESE DAYS of irregular meat and fish supplies, extra effort must be put into menu planning. True, there are many substitutes that may be used for appetizing, healthful meals, but often such substitutes must be "sold" to the family.

But mother needn't be called on to brush up her salesmanship where home-made rolls, biscuits, pancakes and other hot breaks are concerned. All families love them and they often put the finishing touch on what promises to be a rather dull ordinary meal.

Most homemakers have a few basic recipes that they use as starters for making an interesting variety of appetite-teasers. Such a basic recipe is foundation plain yeast dough. From this beginning, the imaginative cook may reap a harvest of ideas. She might add fruits or nuts before the last of the flour is added. Then, too, she might mold the dough into various shapes for rolls. Furthermore, she might arrange those individual rolls, or mold the entire batch of dough into a coffee cake. Finally she might use many kinds of fillings or toppings.

Let us begin with the simple, unadorned pan roll and build up by steps to an exciting climax in glazed prune-whirl tea cake, a harmony of taste and eye appeal.

FOUNDATION PLAIN YEAST DOUGH

1 pkg. yeast, compressed or dry granular
 1 cup lukewarm water
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 tsp. salt
 2 eggs, beaten
 2 tbsps. melted shortening
 3/4 to 1 cup sifted enriched flour

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup flour. Mix well. Add softened yeast and eggs. Beat well. Add shortening. Mix well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down, shape into ball, cover and let rest 5 to 10 minutes. Shape into tea rings, rolls or coffee cakes. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 20 to 30 minutes.

PAN ROLLS

When dough is light, punch down. Shape into ball, cover and let rest 5 to 10 minutes. Mold into 1 or 2-inch balls and place 1/2 inch apart in greased cake pans. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

JACK HORNER ROLLS

When dough is light, punch down. Shape into ball, cover and let rest 5 to 10 minutes. Mold into 2-inch balls. Flatten each ball, and put 1 tbsps. prune filling in center, pinching edges of dough together around filling to seal balls. Place sealed side down 1/2 inch apart on greased baking sheet. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

PRUNE FILLING

1/2 cup sugar
 2 tbsps. melted margarine or butter
 1 tsp. lemon juice
 1 tbsps. orange juice
 1 tbsps. grated orange rind
 1 cup chopped cooked prunes (or apricots)

Mix well and use as filling in rolls or coffee cakes.

CARAMEL GLAZE

1/2 cup dark corn syrup
 1 tbsps. melted margarine or butter
 1/2 tsp. lemon extract
 1/2 tsp. vanilla extract

Mix well and use as glaze on rolls or for fancy breads.

Precious Perfume Mirrors Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

ETHEL BARRYMORE once said to a young stage aspirant, "It is not necessary to be beautiful, but you must think of yourself as a beautiful woman."

Not all of the women the great Renier painted were beautiful in the true sense of the word . . . yet his deft brush brought forth the inner assurance of his models . . . which leaves each admirer with an impression of great loveliness.

Many years earlier . . . one of the great French romanticists proved in his writings that beauty exists in the mind of every woman . . . that you can actually create beauty in yourself by believing in your beauty. And one sure way to establish this confidence in your feminine attributes . . . is to envelop yourself in a truly precious perfume which mirrors you at your very best.

Concretely enough . . . the primary objective of one noted perfumer is just this thought . . . to inspire women to feel that they are truly beautiful. And it isn't hard to imagine, believe me, when you walk in a halo of fragrance. Let a woman but consider her person important enough to spend five minutes applying her perfume before she dons her frock . . . rather than a flittering dab behind her ears before dashing out . . . and one of the first basics for creating a beauty of herself is established.

There's poise in that personality . . . power in that impression. We have two in mind. They are magnificent catalysts which excitingly fuse your personal attributes. They have a way of distinguishing a personality as utterly feminine and chic . . . definitely on the creative side.

One is so arresting . . . that we know it can turn the head of any man you pass. Its subtle, luring fragrance is completely young and romantic . . . a heart-dart symbol of love.

The other creates the assurance that you're lovely . . . for this lush, dramatic fragrance really builds you up. It keys your mood to beauty and adds a new note to life . . . your life! Men love to catch a whiff of a rich, heady perfume. It's more stimulating than a champagne cocktail . . . more glamorous than a carpet of sequins. These perfumes do these things to me . . . but then we're a perfume girl completely sold on the importance of fragrance. So don't be timid . . . take advantage of the situation.

For the names of these fragrances, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

SALAD PLATE

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

When salad is served with the main course, on which side of the dinner plate is it correctly placed? HOSTESS.

Either side of the plate is correct. Most hostesses prefer the right side of the dinner plate, where it is easiest to reach.

Copyright, 1946, King Features Synd., Inc.

WHAT'S FEMININITY, without fragrance? What's summertime without the sun and the moon and the blue sky shining above? What's life without love? Perfume is inspirational . . . like the two wonderful scents we describe today. Drops of either at strategic points . . . behind the knee, or the base of the neck, in the crook of the arm . . . and oh, what a beautiful feeling!

Answer by 'Ideal' Girls

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: In a recent issue of your column you published a letter from a correspondent who signed himself "Average Man." My three friends and I make a reply to that letter. We think there are "ideal" girls left; we not are "gold diggers." We like a good time. We like to dance or go to dinner and a movie. Would that be too expensive for a moderate business man?

We are from 20 to 25 years of age, employed as secretaries at a large plant. We dress well, can't say we've abandoned our "sloppy sweaters and saddles" for sports and hiking. When we have a dinner engagement, "drapes and spikes" are our mode of dressing. Some of us drink and smoke moderately, some of us don't indulge at all. We simply want "Average Man" to know there are still a few "ideal" girls left and we hope he meets one of them.

P. R. M. M.

I never hear a wail from a young man who has failed to meet the ideal girl for whom he's been looking long and ardently, without wondering what might be the locale of his hunting ground. And I can seldom resist the temptation of answering his wail with a recommendation to look up verse 16, seventh chapter of Matthew in the Bible: "Do men gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles?"

In seeking your ideal girl, don't pick them up on street corners or in questionable places if you don't want to waste your time looking for figs among thistles. There are loads of girls like my correspondents who wrote me the foregoing letter, for which I thank them.

Answering Birth Announcements

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

So many birth-announcement cards are arriving these days! To a relative or very intimate friend, I usually send a gift, even though it is something simple and inexpensive. But will you guide me, please, as to how I should acknowledge these cards sent by not-very-close friends? Is an acknowledgment always necessary? R. S.

Yes, really an acknowledgment is necessary, to show that we appreciate the thoughtfulness and kindness of being included among those sent this important news. For example, such a note as:

Dear Sally,

What happy news the little card brought to us . . . another charming member of the Armstrong family! We are sure it is a lovely baby, that you and Tom are wondrously happy, and that Tom is mighty proud to have the baby named after him.

Bill and I send all of our very best wishes . . . and we hope soon to "make the acquaintance of" the newborn.

Affectionately, etc.

Stripes and Sparkle

By BETTINA BEDWELL

AWAY THAT the new styles have of adding drama and spice to your clothes is the way of putting stripes on them somewhere. The all-striped dress is also a very big entry in the fashions, but the dress that is trimmed with striped material, and the suit that has a striped blouse, are universally sponsored items. And they are easier to wear.

Mme. Els, one of the best designers we have of ready-made clothes, shows what discreetly applied stripes may do for that simple black dress in the model that is sketched. Here chartreuse yellow stripes run horizontally across a half bertha that is attached to the sleeves and to the front closing. The blouses are also yellow, and so are the gloves.

GI Stowaway Lands in Hub With All Papers Except One

PFC Carl J. Daniel, 20, of Rising Sun, Pa., Philadelphia, arrived in Boston today aboard the Liberty ship Edmund Fanning fully armed with leave papers, transportation orders and all the other credentials needed by a traveling serviceman.

Only one thing was askew—PFC Daniel had not waited for the Army to choose his ship for the Atlantic crossing.

Daniel's wedding anniversary was Feb. 5, and after re-enlisting in England he was given a 60-day leave and told to report to Camp Herbert Tareyton, Le Havre, for a ship.

Such procedure Daniel figured would never get him to Philadelphia in time for his wedding anniversary so he went to London and stowed away aboard the Fanning.

The Fanning was held up by fog for two days and then on Jan. 21 started, in ballast, on a very rough trip across the Atlantic. Daniel gave himself up after living in the closed gun-crew quarters for four days.

Two MP's met him when he came down from the gangplank today, but the provost marshal's office, while holding him at Ft. Banks for instructions, said his papers were all in order and he probably would be allowed leave.

When he returns to his unit in Europe, they said, he can make his peace with his commanding officer.

Dairy, Poultry Feed to Be Cut

Walter Berger of the U. S. Department of Agriculture today told New England dairy and poultrymen they must cut their wheat feed to 60 per cent by June because of the European food situation, the Associated Press reports.

At a conference in the State House, he also told poultrymen they must reduce the number of settings so that by June they would be cut 50 per cent.

The newly-announced plan of using darker flour will mean that nearly a third will be cut from the supply of wheat feeds.

Would-Be Marine Lands in Jail

Today was the 18th birthday of Anthony Petarressi, Bellview st., Medford, the day he said he intended joining the Marines.

Instead he was arraigned in municipal court on charges of breaking and entering two Back Bay stores and stealing 10 pounds of sugar.

With him on similar charges was William A. Parkinson, 17, Tremont st., South End. Both pleaded not guilty. Judge Tomasello ordered them held in $1000 each for the grand jury.

Special Officer Hadley, who collared the pair said Petarressi explained he wanted nine dollars to fix his teeth so he could join the Marines and broke into the stores for the money.

Lynn Police In Shakeup

A shake-up in the Lynn police department which sends the head of the liquor and vice squad to a morning cruising car assignment in West Lynn, was announced today by Police Chief Callahan.

Thirty-four men, including Sgt. Horace L. Hill, vice squad leader, are affected. Chief Callahan was non-committal about the new assignments, but said no Hill successor would be named.

The chief indicated he would supervise the vice squad. Callahan, when a sergeant, was head of the squad during many sensational gambling raids.

The shake-up is the second in the department since the inauguration of Mayor Cole, Jan. 1.

Boy Scouts Asked To Fight Crime

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (INS)—Atty. Gen. Tom Clark today called on the Boy Scouts of America to spearhead the fight against juvenile delinquency, which he termed a "terrible spectacle."

In address at the 36th anniversary celebration of the Greater New York Council of Boy Scouts, Clark said:

"Not only the Boy Scouts, but school, church and home must unite in a solemn covenant to save erring boys and girls and to attempt this human reconversion which is so important for the America of today and tomorrow."

Last Smoke Fatal

MELTON PARK, SURREY, England, Feb. 8 (AP)—A terrific gale lashing southern England caught 87-year-old James Moltram, buried him flat on his face, and drove his pipe-stem through the back of his throat into his spinal column.

The coroner's verdict today was accidental death.

2 Local Boy Campaign In Florida Fight Clubs

By JACKSONWAY

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 8—The boxing boom that was given a very strong push in Boston has carried into Florida with the result that Carolly is considering building an addition to his American Legion Arena at West Palm Beach, while Miami promoters regret that the New York Garden tore down its huge boxing arena that could accommodate 10,000 persons.

It is also significant that Boston boxers are more than doing their part to increase the growth of cauliflower interest in Florida. There will be two Greater Boston mitt wielders on Carolly's list offering tonight. Willard Buckless of Saugus, a former A. U. and All-America champion, will oppose Buddy Rose, Tampa middleweight, while Tommy Moore of South Boston will toss punches at Monolo Fernandez of Cuba. Moore recently won a bout at St. Petersburg.

The hottest boxing attraction in Florida is Frank Ross of the North End. Ross has won four bouts in a row, Abe Kaufman, who showed in Boston, was one of the victims. Ross appears in perfect condition, and intends to campaign in Florida for the remainder of the season.

"I have turned thousands of people away from my shows this season as a result of limited seating capacity," Al Carolly told this writer. "I plan to enlarge my arena to keep pace with the boxing boom."

"I shall be back in West Springfield next summer staging weekly boxing shows. New England will prove a fertile territory for boxing."

"I have been following the Boston boxing situation closely. The Goodwin A. C. has come up with a strong card for its Garden show next Monday night. It should come near to being a sell-out."

Carolly says that Garvey Young, Marine champion who will clash with Ralph Zanelli at the Boston Garden next Monday night in one of the four ten rounders, is one of the best action fighters in the East.

"Remember the last tussle between Young and Zanelli?" asked Al. "At one stage of the bout while the rival welterweights were off their feet they continued to punch each other. There was so much excitement after the decision that the Shore Patrol headed by 'Seventy' Powers had to take over."

Carolly was particularly anxious to get the lowdown on Joe Blackwood of Newark who tangles with Al "Red" Priest in another ten. I told Al that Blackwood is a brilliant boxer and very fast as he proved beating Priest in their first meeting. He also showed ability against Izzy Janazzo.

Johnny Pretzie of Watertown, a former all-America champion, will be given a chance to redeem himself against Jay Turner of Washington in another ten. Pretzie was knocked out in the tenth round of last meeting with Turner. The youthful Pretzie tired, but he has profited by his experience and looks forward to winning Monday night.

Sgt. Eddie Mack told the writer before leaving Boston for Florida that Howard Thompson will prove a fistful revelation. Mack has his right weight hopeful signed to oppose Big Bill Baker of Everett. Mack is training Thompson himself. Eddie has handled top boxers since the days of Jack Johnson, and he feels Thompson is destined to climb to the fistful heights. Mack turned down an offer of $15,000 for Thompson's contract.

"Why should I sell a gold mine?" demanded Mack.

Carolly said that Dan Carroll is at Miami with George Martin, welterweight boxer. Martin is training and intends to keep active in the ring this winter.

Carolly says that Martin will be prepared to take on the winner of the Young-Zanelli skirmish.

6 National Champions Compete in BAA Games

A merry-go-round of present and former track and field champions whirled into the Garden tomorrow night when the annual BAA games are staged. Well-balanced fields in the featured events and good relay competition appear likely to make this meeting one of the best from the standpoint of competition in BAA lore.

Just about all the sports standouts are entered and with a couple of earlier meetings under their belts they are fit to reach topflight form for the first time this winter.

And the great Marcel Hansenne of France, conqueror of Gunder Hagg, may be expected to show his true speed for the first time in his invasion. He goes to post in the Hunter mile against Les MacMitchell, Bill McGuire and Tom Quinn, all of New York, and Frank Cassidy of Tufts, a newcomer to middle-distancing, who has a lot of natural ability.

Hansenne's appearance gives the games a touch of international interest needed to make the entire B. A. A. offering sparkle.

Six national champs, eight former titleholders and five individual defenders in the main events will battle for the top awards. The national kings include:

Barney Ewell, Lancaster, Pa., indoor 60 and outdoor 100 meters champion. Hal co-holder of the B. A. A. record for 50 yards (5.38).

Ed Dugger, Dayton, O., indoor high and low hurdles champion at 60 yards, 1943 B. A. A. winner and co-holder of the 3.68 record for 45 yards (three flights).

Elmore Harris, Shore A. C., N. J., national indoor 600 and outdoor 200 meters champion; favored to win the Hollis 600.

Herb McKenley, U. of Illinois, national AAU outdoor 400 meters champion, in fine condition and a threat in the Hunter Mile.

Herb Douglas, Pittsburgh, the national outdoor broad jump champion and a top notch sprinter who will compete in the 50-yard dash.

The former national champions competing are:

Lieut. Bob Wright, Philadelphia, in the high hurdles; Leslie MacMitchell of N. Y., in the Hunter Mile; Dave Albritton of Dayton, O., in the high jump; Ed Conwell of New York in the dash; Herb Thompson, defender and 4-time B. A. A. winner, in the dash; Howard Bork in the Lapham 1000; Forest Elaw, Billings 2-mile favorite; and Norman Bright of Dayton, O., a Billings trophy race entry.

The defending BAA entries are Herb Thompson in the dash; Stanton (Twin) Callender of NYU in the Lapham 1000; Milton Padway of Wisconsin, pole vault; the NYU mile relay team, on which presumably Stanton and Maurice Callender will run, and Joe Conley of Dartmouth, who shared the high jump last year.

James Brunel Herbert of N. Y., was in a last-minute entry to defend the famous Hollis 600 trophy.

If the Callender twins come back for a relay stint NYU will be a shoe-in for the George V. Brown Trophy. Maurice will be a real threat in the Hollis 600, agency of his first trophy race last year, and Stanton will be sorely extended to keep the Lapham 1000 away from Fred Sickinger, 1943 winner now back from the wars.

Letmenow Choice For $20,000 'Cap

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 8 (AP)—Hal Price Headley's Letmenow today was a 5 to 2 choice of the smart money boys to win the $20,000 Black Helen Handicap at Hialeah race course tomorrow.

The event, richest on the Florida winter calendar to date, is for fillies and mares at a mile and a furlong.

The fact that she'll drop down to 120 pounds for the Black Helen and will have Eddie Arco as her pilot helps to make her the pre-ference choice.

GREAT—Dick Sister belts ball in Havana workout. He's a son of the old-time batting star, and is a slugger. He's the favorite of Cuban winter league fans.

Yankees Sign Local Hurler

Former Coast Guardsman, John Hanley of West Roxbury, an outstanding pitcher at Mechanics Arts High School before joining the service, has been signed by the New York Yankees and assigned to Newark of the International League.

Hanley, before going into the C. G., was the property of the Boston Braves.

He was stationed at the Brooklyn barracks where the Yanks spotted him. He faced most of the strong semi-pro teams around the New York area and he was given a $5000 bonus for signing.

DeGlane Pins Singh Two Out of 3 Falls

Henri DeGlane took the odd fall to defeat Nanjo Singh in the feature wrestling bout at the Arena last night before 4000. Singh won the first in 23:48 and DeGlane the next two in 8:03 and 7:45.

Bull Curry tossed Jean LaRouche, 15:20. Bob Wagner and Olaf Olsen went 30 minutes to a draw and Ben Morgan and Frank Judson did the same in 20 minutes. Tony Shucco was third man in the feature.

HUNTERS AID DUCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—Sportsmen have helped to increase the North American duck population by 100,000,000 during the last 10 years, John Bracken, Canadian conservation leader, said here at the annual dinner of Ducks Unlimited.

Last 2 Frames Nightmare To Woman Bowling 300

CINCINNATI, Feb. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Anderson, who rolled an unequalled perfect game in duckpin bowling, exclaimed: "Those last two frames gave me the worst three minutes I've ever had in my life!" The slight, 31-year-old housewife, who lives at nearby Bethel, O., turned in her 300 pins in 10 consecutive frames last week at the Fent Bowling Alleys in Bethel.

"I didn't start thinking about it until I had seven strikes in a row, then the pressure started to get heavy. I got past the eighth all right but I rolled the ninth and tenth frames in a sort of a daze."

Charlie Fent, owner of the alleys, said Mrs. Anderson began bowling duck pins last fall. "I've heard of bowlers rolling 300 duck pins using 'rubberneck' pins. Those are duck pins with heavy rubber bands around the middle to make them thicker, bouncier and easier to knock over. This is the first time I've ever heard of a woman, or a man either, getting 300 with regulation pins," Fent asserted.

Stirnweiss or Gordon May Shift to Third

Unless Joe Gordon is kidding, he believes he or George Stirnweiss, his rival for the regular second base job on the New York Yankees, may be traded, according to the Associated Press. "What are the Yanks going to do with both of us?" queried Gordon yesterday in Chicago, where he was en route to join his mates for the trip to Panama to start spring training.

"It looks like one of us will be traded or moved to another position, or draw a fat salary for sitting on the bench."

Of course, hardly anyone takes Gordon seriously. It seems inconceivable manager Joe McCarthy would trade either Gordon, voted the most valuable player in the American League in 1942, or Stirnweiss, who won the league batting and base stealing titles last year.

It is felt in baseball circles that the two will stage a red-hot fight for the keystone job, with the loser moving to third base where Bill Johnson, 1943 regular, is not expected back until midsummer. He is in the Army with insufficient points for a discharge.

Gordon said he wouldn't mind playing the hot corner as he performed at that spot some in the minors. Stirnweiss also has performed at third.

Gordon will start from scratch to win his old job back, but at latest official reports, Stirnweiss is still among the unsigned. It is known that Stirnweiss balked at terms offered him as late as last Saturday. However, Nick Etten, last year's regular first baseman, signed his contract and is among the 10 Yankees heading for Panama.

Other baseball items:

NEW YORK GIANTS—Four more players signed, including pitchers Hal Schumacher, Dave Koslo and Bill Emmerich, and catcher Clyde Klutts. Manager Mel Ott, en route for Miami, where the Giants begin training Sunday, picks the Cardinals, Cubs and Braves as the teams to beat.

CHICAGO CUBS—A total of 49 players leave in two groups on Feb. 16 and Feb. 23 for training at Catalina Island.

BROOKLYN DODGERS—Don Padgett was the latest to sign as the Dodgers prepared to start training in Daytona Beach, Fla., Sunday. He was discharged from the Navy recently.

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS—George McQuinn, obtained in a trade for Dick Siebert last fall, changed his mind about quitting baseball and decided to "play a couple of more years."

CLEVELAND INDIANS—Charles (Red) Embree, right-handed fast ball pitcher, has been released from the Army and will join the first squad at Clearwater, Fla., Feb. 20.

Other players to sign included outfielder Eric Tipton of the Reds, pitchers Bill Brandt and Fred Clemence of the Pirates and outfielders Stan Wentzel and Chet Wiecek of the Braves. Wiecek was drafted by the Braves at the end of the 1943 season after leading the American Ass'n in batting. He was recently discharged from the Army.

DETROIT TIGERS—President Walter O. Briggs suggested significantly that Hank Greenberg, reported asking for $65,000, might do well to sign for the offered $55,000. "I'm sure he hasn't a chance in the outfield any more, as the Tigers in Dick Wakefield, Barney McCosky, Pat Mullin and Dick Evers have the best outfield in the major leagues," said Briggs. "He'll have to play first."

Tigers Mail Greenberg First Bid for 1946

DETROIT, Feb. 8 (AP)—Hank Greenberg, belting Tigers outfielder slated to return to first base for the champions next season, today was mailed his first 1946 contract. Tiger General Manager George Trautman said: "We didn't mail it earlier because we thought a conference or two with Hank was in order before putting any terms on paper," Trautman explained. "We still are in a period of negotiation following a meeting last week in New York."

Trautman made no mention of any terms of the contract offered Greenberg. Asked if he thought the figure would be acceptable to Hank, the Tiger front office chief said only, "We are hopeful." Trautman also said that he was "sparing" with southpaw Pitcher Hal Newhouse, seeking satisfactory terms with the ace flinger who won 25 games for the Tigers in 1945. No agreement with Newhouse has been reached after several conferences Trautman said.

N. Y. Tracks to Lock Race Entries in Stalls

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—A plan designed to lock the barn door before there is any chance of stimulation of a horse on the day he races, thereby protecting the animal, its trainer—to say nothing of the two-buck bettor—will be put in use on the five New York State race tracks next season.

Extensive tests by the Jockey Club have shown that doping a horse must be done within two hours of the race to be effective.

Under the plan to be used next season every horse will be guarded throughout the entire day of his race by a specially-locked mesh screen in front of the stable door. Only the trainer will have a key.

'Easy, Gal'

This action took place in New York as a non-striker was entering the Western Union strike-bound building. A woman was objected to the entry, being restrained by less impulsive picket line members as she tries to go after the nonstriker.

Good Job

S-Sgt. Anthony Savoni of Cleveland thinks the Army is a good deal for him because his yearly income will be $4700, including allotments, overseas and Night pay. Reasons for his big income are shown here... his wife and seven of their eight children. Children's ages range from 2 to 13.
